CHINESE RED PULLBACK INDICATED

U. S. Accuses Peiping Of 'Blackmail'

Can't Shoot Way Into U.N., Austin Says

Arab-Asian Bloc Asks Peace Talks

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 24 (AP)—U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin today accused the Chinese Communists of "blackmail" and bad faith in trying to gain their objectives in Korea and the Far East. He also said Red China and Russia have taken part in aggression in Korea.

The American representative spoke to the 60-nation Political Committee of the U. N. Assembly as 12 Asian and Arab countries formally demanded an immediate seven-nation conference to seek a settlement of the Chinese-Korean problem without waiting for a cease-fire.

His emphatic statement was regarded in U. N. circles as a flat rejection of the latest Arab-Asian move and as an American answer to Prime Minister Nehru of India, who criticized in a New Delhi broadcast today an American resolution calling for the Political Committee to find a verdict of aggression against Communist China.

Amounts To Ultimatum

Austin was speaking to the committee in the debate on a reply from Peiping to the last chance cease-fire appeal made by the Political Committee on Jan. 13. The Red Chinese came back with a renewed demand for admission to the U. N., a seven-nation conference to agree on a cease-fire and to negotiate all issues of the Far East, including Formosa. Peiping also demanded the U. S. get out of Formosa and the U. N. forces withdraw from Korea.

The U. S. delegate said the Red Chinese had given the U. N. what amounted to an ultimatum to admit them to the U. N. He replied, for the U. S., that admission of any country is a matter for a judgment of all U. N. members and not for any seven-nation conference. He said one of the factors to be considered was the fact that soldiers of Red China are shedding the blood of many countries seated at the committee table and said:

"You can't shoot your way into the United Nations."

Nehru Calls For Conference

Of the other issues, Austin said:

"The question of Formosa, the Chinese representation, and of other Far Eastern problems have been or can be put on the agenda of the United Nations and dealt with by orderly United Nations processes. Various members of the United Nations may take differing views on the question of Chinese representation and perhaps also on the future of Formosa. But they cannot possibly disagree with my government's view that these problems must be solved in the United Nations in accordance with the Charter and the procedures provided for therein and not by blackmail."

Prime Minister Nehru, in his broadcast, called for a conference of the major powers, including Red China, to discuss world issues. He said the time has come to talk over the problems instead of trying to handle them at a great distance. He said he was convinced that the Red Chinese reply showed a desire for a peaceful settlement.

Dutch Cabinet Resigns

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Dutch cabinet resigned today. It was a four-party coalition which critics accused of conceding too much to Indonesia and too little to Dutch defense efforts.

Yank Casualties In Korean Strife Mount To 46,201

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP) — Announced American casualties in the Korean war mounted today to 46,201, an increase of 1,064 over last week's total. This compared with 2,424 new casualties announced last week, and 4,974 during one seven-day period last September.

The new cumulative total announced today by the Defense Department covered losses where next of kin had been notified through Jan. 19. The figures showed:

Dead, 7,499; wounded, non-fatally, 29,471, and missing, 9,231.

The dead included 6,693 killed in action, 780 who died of wounds, and 26 originally listed as missing but now determined to be dead.

Vivien Kellems, Withholding Tax Foe, Wins Suit

Entitled To Money Seized In Penalties

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 24 (AP) —A federal jury decided today that Vivien Kellems had not acted "wilfully" in refusing to withhold income taxes from her employes' pay envelopes. It returned a verdict entitling her to recovery of most of the money seized by the government as penalties for defying the law.

Miss Kellems, long an opponent of the withholding tax, was ecstatic at the verdict. "It's wonderful," she told newsmen and attorneys. "I'm delighted."

U. S. Attorneys Surprised

Government attorneys, obviously surprised, said they probably would appeal. As a first step, said Fred Neuland, special assistant to the Attorney General who defended the government, a motion to set aside the verdict already had been prepared.

"All this verdict did," said Neuland as he left for Washington, "is to decide Miss Kellems was entitled to get her money back and it does not in any way affect the constitutionality of the act."

Miss Kellems, who filed the civil action here after the government ignored her requests for indictment to raise a test case, has long contended that the withholding tax law is unconstitutional. Judge Carroll C. Hincks eliminated that issue from the case at an early stage, however, by holding the act constitutional. All he left for the jury was whether she acted "wilfully" in violating it.

Asked Return Of $7,819

At issue was the demand of the Stonington factory owner and her brother, associated with her in the business, for return of $7,819 assessed against her in penalties for taxes she failed to withhold in the three final quarters of 1948.

She sued Internal Revenue Collector John J. Fitzpatrick for $6,133.80 for penalties assessed during his tenure, and it was this portion of the case decided by today's verdict.

Man, 92, Gets Social Security Number

APPLETON, Wis., Jan. 24 (AP)—Miles Meidam, 92 years old, finally has a Social Security number but will have to work another 16 months to collect federal old age benefits.

His greenhouse job—something he's been working at since 1872—was classified as agricultural employment where workers weren't covered by Social Security until the first of this year. Now he must work six quarters to qualify for retirement.

Preliminary Big 4 Meeting Is Suggested

Paris Conference Proposed By West

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP) — The western Big Three proposed tonight that Russia meet with them in a preliminary session in Paris as a step toward a Big Four foreign ministers conference to ease global tension.

The United States, Britain and France made the suggestion in notes to Moscow. They said they stand ready to make a major attempt to improve East-West relations.

But they again turned thumbs down on any idea of limiting the Big Four ministers' conference to a discussion of German rearmament. They want all major causes of East-West friction explored.

New Cycle In Discussion

They called on Moscow to say whether Russia agrees to take up "the principal problems whose solution would permit a real and lasting improvement" in relations between the Soviet Union and the West.

"If the Soviet government does agree," the western nations said, they are ready to set a date for the preliminary conference to decide just what issues should be considered. Paris was suggested as the site for the preliminary meeting.

The identical notes opened a new cycle in nearly three months of discussion over the proposal advanced by Russia for another foreign ministers' conference.

They were in reply to the Soviet's December 30 note declaring Russia's willingness to take up preliminaries but insisting that the question of German rearmament be the "first and foremost business."

Soviet Charges Rejected

The western powers took no stand on the importance to be given this issue but they declared that "the tension which exists in the world today does not arise from the German problem."

A discussion limited to the questions proposed by the Soviet government would therefore be inadequate and unreal, Moscow was told.

The three powers also rejected as "completely without foundation" Soviet charges made during the exchange that the present moves toward bringing Western Germany into the North Atlantic defense lineup are aimed aggressively at Soviet Russia.

Mine Fire Traps 12 Temporarily

SULLIVAN, Ind., Jan. 24 (AP)—At least a dozen miners were trapped temporarily and then escaped past an underground fire in the Pandora coal mine near Dugger late tonight, a mine spokesman reported.

The mine official said 12 to 14 men had "reached fresh air" and began making their way past a conveyor belt fire.

The belt fire was blamed on friction, but was brought under control within two hours.

Home-Made Electric Chair Used By Suicide

SHREWSBURY, England, Jan. 24 (AP)—Witnesses at an inquest testified today that John Hodges, 66, killed himself in a home-made electric chair.

Policemen who entered the house found a note saying "careful, switch off the current." Hodges was dead in a chair with electric wires attached to his right wrist and left leg. A thread around his finger was connected to a power switch.

Price 'Freeze' Order May Be Issued Today

One Last Kiss

Sgt. Edward Ratigan breaks ranks for one more kiss from his wife as his son, Eddie, Jr., 3½, looks on. The sergeant was marching to the Birmingham, Ala., railroad station where his regiment, called into federal service as part of the Dixie Division, was leaving for camp.

Action To Curb Inflation Might Include Rollback

Wage Ceiling Policy May Follow Swiftly

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—A general price "freeze," including meat and some other foods, was imminent today as the government prepared to crack down on runaway war-boom inflation.

On Capitol Hill, Price Director Michael V. DiSalle said he has recommended a general freeze and rollback on prices.

DiSalle said the order is now on the desk of Eric Johnston, who took the oath today as the nation's economic stabilization chief.

Asked by newsmen if there was a chance that the order might be issued by tomorrow night, DiSalle replied:

"Yes, there's a chance."

The price director said the general freeze may last only a short time, giving way "very soon" to a different kind of price control, restricting a seller's margin rather than freezing prices as they are.

Use Of Nickel Curbed

Meanwhile, in another mobilization move, the government banned the use of nickel in automobile trim and in nearly 400 other civilian products.

Already in short supply, nickel has many important defense uses, notably including its use to make jet aircraft engines resistant to great heat and corrosion.

The order is effective March 1 on nickel plating and April 1 on nickel used in such stainless steel products as auto grills, hubcaps, etc.

Key officials said the price control action—possibly accompanied by a rollback to Jan. 2 levels—may come within 24 hours to 48 hours.

They indicated that a flexible policy on wage ceilings, allowing for some upward adjustment, will follow swiftly.

DiSalle told newsmen his proposed order contains no specific date to which prices would be rolled back. But he said:

"There will be some rollback."

Truman Wants Stronger Controls

He said the order, if approved, will temporarily freeze all prices not exempted by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

The law exempts prices on all farm products selling below parity or below pre-Korean war levels. Parity is a sliding scale designed to keep farm prices attuned to the prices of things farmers must buy.

Only about seven farm products are now above parity, but they include beef and other items in the cost of living.

From the White House to Capitol Hill, all signs pointed to a program of sweeping economic controls reminiscent of the old OPA days of World War II.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the House Banking Committee told newsmen after a White House visit that President Truman will ask Congress shortly for legislation to strengthen the whole price machinery and "provide effective control of food prices."

"Ike" To Report To Legislators Next Thursday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will tell Congress in person next Thursday about the progress and prospects of the defense of Europe against the Communist threat. He may report to the people by radio the next day.

The plan was announced in the House today by Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass). At the same time national defense headquarters said the General, now completing a tour of his Europe-wide command as chief of Atlantic pact forces, will arrive back in this country Saturday.

The developments came on the heels of a spot check by the Associated Press which showed that the administration can feel sure the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees will approve a resolution favoring the dispatch of American troops to Europe.

Out of the committees' combined membership of 26, reporters reached 21. As of today, 14 favored the proposal and none opposed publicly.

French Police Prevent Anti-Ike Demonstration

PARIS, Jan. 24 (AP) — The French government mobilized 14,500 troops and police in the Paris region tonight and smashed a Communist anti-Eisenhower demonstration before it could even get started.

No Communist got near Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters at the Hotel Astoria and there was no violence. Police combed the area for blocks around for would-be demonstrators and arrested 2,500 persons.

Early in the day police swooped down on the Communist daily, L' Humanite (circulation 225,000), and the pro-Communist newspaper Liberation (circulation 100,000), and seized most of today's editions. The newspapers had defied a government ban against the demonstration and urged Communists to gather and shout "go home" at Eisenhower.

MacArthur Sends Girl's Money Back

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 24 (AP) — Eight-year-old Sandra (Sandy) Wise sent a quarter and this letter to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo:

"Dear Mr. MacArthur: I am sending this 25 cents to you and your soldiers for helping the poor over in Korea. I am eight years old and wondered if you wanted me to save my allowance. I am willing to do that favor for you. Yours truly, Sandy Wise."

This week, the little girl got her quarter back. With it was a letter from MacArthur, saying:

"Dear Sandy: Thanks ever so much, but I do not believe it necessary to send your allowances. My best to you. Douglas MacArthur."

Remington Ends His Testimony

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—William W. Remington said today he had meetings with Jacob Golos and Elizabeth Bentley, unaware that they were Soviet agents, but insisted he never gave them World War Two military secrets.

The former War Production Board official is being tried in federal court on a charge of perjury for telling a federal grand jury he never was a Communist.

Remington concluded three days of testimony under direct examination with a blanket denial of any participation whatsoever in Communism or espionage. Cross-examination began immediately.

Remington's former wife had testified he was a Communist. Miss Bentley, admitted former Soviet spy courier, said he gave her information to be passed on to Golos, Soviet spy ring leader.

Hard Coal Pact Near

U. S. Britain Standardize Flattop Landing Tactics

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP) — The United States and British Navy air arms have achieved "complete standardization" in the techniques of landing on their aircraft carriers.

James Callaghan, parliamentary secretary to the Admiralty, told the House of Commons today that all possible steps are being taken as well to standardize new antiaircraft gunnery equipment.

HIS GOLD SEIZED—Sol Bienstock (above), 31, Brooklyn, N. Y., will be arraigned today at Boston on charges of violating the Gold Reserve Act and the Gold Export Act. Customs inspectors seized 600 ounces of gold valued at $21,000 from Bienstock's luggage as he was about to board a plane for Spain and Portugal. Inspector Thomas O'Brien said thin strips of gold were concealed in false bottoms of two suitcases, an overnight bag and inside the lining of Bienstock's vest. (AP Wirephoto)

NEA Spokesman Raps Plan To Cut Draft Age To 18

Would Force Many Colleges To Close

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP) — The Defense Department's proposal to draft 18-year-old boys for 27 months military service was criticized sharply today by a spokesman for the National Education Association.

He told a Senate Preparedness subcommittee that the plan if carried into effect would force many colleges and universities to close their doors and "strike at the very heart of our system of education."

The witness, Ralph W. McDonald, was outspoken in his opposition to the plan personally sponsored by Secretary of Defense Marshall to cut the draft age from 19 to 18, extend the period of service from 21 to 27 months, and install as soon as possible a permanent system of universal military service and training (UMST).

McDonald claimed to speak for the "vast majority" of college, university and other school teachers and administrators as a result of a nationwide poll. He called the Defense Department's UMST bill "perhaps the most profound and revolutionary proposal respecting higher education in the United States that has been presented since the birth of the nation."

As an alternative to the proposed 18-year-old draft, the NEA witness proposed that the mental and physical standards for acceptance into the armed forces be lowered. He said it is "ridiculous" to reject for physical deficiency a youth who manages to play varsity football.

The senators have received endorsements of the bill from the heads of five colleges, but McDonald insisted they did not speak for the majority of educators.

Mrs. Canoles Renamed Demo Committeewoman

BALTIMORE, Jan. 24 (AP) — Mrs. M. Alice Canoles, Baltimore, was reappointed Democratic national committeewoman for Maryland today by Robert B. Ennis, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Mrs. Canoles served in the capacity from 1944 until 1948, when she was replaced by Mrs. John L. Whitehurst. Mrs. Canoles in turn succeeds Mrs. Whitehurst, who resigned unexpectedly earlier this month.

Allied Patrols Find Only Few Enemy Troops

One Unit Within 33 Miles Of 38th

TOKYO, Thursday, Jan. 25 (AP)—U. S. intelligence officers said today the Chinese Communists may have made a large scale withdrawal in Western Korea.

In Central Korea, bold Allied armored patrols thrust 38 miles north of Chungju, a key United Nations defense position, without contacting any large enemy elements.

Field dispatches from both the west and central sectors said there was no enemy contact last night except a minor patrol clash near Yoju, 40 miles southeast of Seoul.

AP Correspondent Jim Becker reported today from the western sector below Seoul:

"The apparent absence of Communist troops in force south of the Han River has led some intelligence officers to conclude there may have been a large scale withdrawal to the north."

Different Idea

But one cautious officer had another idea about the lack of Reds:

"They may have their own cease-fire in effect. They may be avoiding contact during United Nations negotiations to save themselves some men. They've been hurt when we hit them head on and they may feel that they should not risk losing men while there is the possibility of a cease-fire order from the U.N."

The bold thrust 38 miles north of Chungju carried an Allied force through the oft-entered transport hub of Wonju, then 12 miles north to within 33 miles of the 38th parallel.

On the patrols' southeast flank, other Allied troops seized the mountain road hub prize of Yongwol.

A field dispatch said the patrol which knifed toward the parallel rolled 10 miles north from Wonju to Hoengsong. It then pushed on about two miles north. Hoengsong, 55 miles due east of Seoul, is 25 miles south of parallel 38.

Allies Recapture Yongwol

The unit of 100 men and four tanks had routed two small Red pockets on the way to Hoengsong but it found the town itself empty of Communist troops. The unit pulled back at nightfall to better defense positions.

It was the northernmost stab by the Allies since Seoul was abandoned to the Communists Jan. 4.

Forty miles to the southeast of Hoengsong, another patrol recaptured the tungsten mining town of Yongwol, which has changed hands five times in the past two weeks.

The troops smashed into Yongwol after powering across the ice-covered Han River. A 20-plane bombing attack and a roaring artillery barrage had driven Red troops from the town.

An estimated 20,000 Reds, including 500 rifle-carrying women, were believed to have infiltrated behind Allied lines on the eastern front. Some of these women soldiers were reported to have fired on Allied troops. There were few details, however.

Negro Legislator Shelves Campaign

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Rep. Powell (D-NY) told the House today he is laying aside his campaign against racial segregation in the armed services for the duration of the emergency.

Powell, negro minister, said members of his race put their country first, and he feels this is not the time to make segregation an issue.

"I don't propose to make any more appeals for anti-segregation amendments," he said. "Now is the time to win the war."

But when peace returns, Powell said, he will take up his fight.

Cugie's Wife Sticks To Her Guns, Says Singer "In Raw"

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24 (AP)—Lorraine Allen, current wife of Xavier Cugat, the rhumba bandsman, said today she found his new love "naked as a jaybird" when she walked into their Chicago hotel room.

In Newark, N. J., 19-year-old Singer Abbe Lane had a different version. She said she was in the bathroom changing clothes early yesterday, preparing to go to a horror movie with the 51-year-old Cugat. She heard a commotion and opened the door, she said, but:

"I held my sequin dress in front of me. One of the men (Mrs. Cugat was accompanied by detectives) dragged me from the bathroom but I was covered all the time."

Retorted Mrs. Cugat, 32, and also beautiful, as she flew in from Chicago:

"Miss Lane was as naked as a jaybird in her nest. We were startled and shocked, and Miss Lane was completely immobilized. But after a time she picked up a sequin dress and held it in front of her. We didn't drag her out of the bathroom, as she and Cugie claim.

"One of the men in my party happened to have a camera with him.

"If any dispute arises, I have very definite photographic evidence to back up my statement."

Mrs. Cugat said she wanted to talk to her husband about their marital troubles. She sued him for divorce in California, later amended it to separate maintenance, and now is getting $2,000 a month pending trial.

Annual Reassessment Opposed; Tax Repeal Bill Planned

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 24 (AP)—Senate opposition swelled today to a proposal annual reassessment of all Maryland property.

Five members of the powerful Finance Committee declared taxpayers in their home counties were aroused at the plan recommended by a special survey commission.

As they forecast a sharp legislative attack on the proposal, two senators announced they would introduce quickly a bill to repeal the state property tax outright.

Majority Leader Goldstein (D-Calvert) repeated his wish to eliminate the tax, and Sen. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel) said he would sponsor a repealer jointly with Goldstein.

Their measure would provide for payment of state bonds with excess revenues from other sources. An emergency clause would permit the Board of Public Works to reinstate the real estate levy if general funds run short.

One statement of taxpayer opposition to annual reassessments came from Sen. Sybert (D-Howard) shortly after he was named chairman of a subcommittee to study the proposal.

Yearly valuations have been suggested by the Case commission, appointed a year ago to survey Maryland tax laws and find cures for inequities.

Headed by Attorney Richard W. Case, the commission has advocated scrapping the rotational system of assessments adopted in 1944. This splits each county and Baltimore into five districts, only one of which is assessed each year.

Goldstein, chairman of the full committee, appointed Minority Leader Kimble (R-Allegany), Sen. Ramsburg (R-Frederick), Jewell (D-Kent) and Barton (D-Balto 2nd) to serve with Sybert on the assessments group.

The subcommittee will attend a meeting of county commissioners called for tomorrow to draft a platform on assessments.

The Finance Committee tabled a motion by Barton to reduce from five to two per cent the tax on unearned income up to $3,500. The commission suggested a ceiling of $500 for the cut rate. Kimble asserted any heavy loss in revenue might prevent Gov. McKeldin from presenting a balanced budget.

Baltimore Transit Strike Postponed For One Week

BALTIMORE, Jan. 24 (AP)—Union officials today called off tomorrow's transit strike for one week to allow the Baltimore Transit Company time to reconsider the operators' demands.

The AFL union is asking a seven-cent-an-hour increase, retroactive to Jan. 8, and another seven-cent boost July 9.

The company has offered a five-cent hike and no further increase after six months.

The basic wage scale now is $1.55.

The postponement of the walkout, set for 4 a. m., was announced by Clayton Perry, union head, at 4:30 p. m. after a two-hour session with Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro.

"Our union is anxious now, as it has been since negotiations began," Perry said, "to save the people of Baltimore the inconvenience and expense of a transit strike. Therefore, we are now making a sacrifice to accomplish this."

The company made no statement immediately.

Mayor D'Alesandro, who was trying to mediate a settlement until 2:30 a. m. today, beamed happily. The meeting was held at his home.

The contract expired Jan. 8. Company and union representatives have been in almost continuous session for the past two days trying to reach an agreement.

Free GI Insurance OK'd

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—The House voted 390 to 0 today to provide $10,000 of free life insurance for all servicemen while on active duty.

The new program would be retroactive to last June 27, date of the Korean outbreak, and would apply to all servicemen in the future.

The Senate has yet to act.

Military Furlough Rail Fares Slashed

CHICAGO, Jan. 24 (AP)—Military personnel in uniform can ride on all railroads at reduced rates from January 26 through March 31, it was announced today.

E. B. Padrick, chairman of the Transcontinental Passenger Association, said the low round-trip military furlough fares are being tried on an experimental basis due to the growing number of military personnel.

Fares, good in coaches only, will be at the rate of 2.025 cents a mile. In certain territories, they will be less.

New Navy Jet Engine Rated Most Powerful

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Navy announced today a new jet engine described by its builder as the world's most powerful now qualified for production.

The engine is the Westinghouse J-40, big brother of the J-34 which has been used in several Air Force and Navy aircraft types.

W. B. Anderson, manager of the Westinghouse Aviation Gas Turbine Division at Philadelphia, said in a statement "the J-40 packs more potential speed into less space than any previous rotating engine ever built."

Pullen Urges More Pay For Teachers

ANNAPOLIS, Md., 24 (AP)—State schools will "be on the road to a catastrophic situation" by the end of the year unless teachers are soon given more pay, Superintendent Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., said today.

"We cannot afford to delay," the school official told a combined meeting of the Senate and House Education Committees.

He said teachers already are beginning to drift away to better paying jobs in industry and "unless something is done immediately we'll be back to the war situation." Then, he recalled classes were overloaded, two-shift schedules were established and the teacher turnover was tremendous.

Pullen came before the committee to present the problem of teachers and need for more buildings. He said he had no specific recommendations on either, but will supply them to legislators later.

TWUA Sues Firm For Hiking Wages

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24 (AP) — The Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) today sued a company for raising the wages of some employes.

The union contended the increase violated its contract with the J. Sullivan & Sons Manufacturing Co., makers of tapes and bindings, and asked the U. S. District Court for injunctive relief.

A company spokesman said merit increases were given in accordance with the contract.

Coogan Can't Touch Liquor For One Year

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Jan. 24 (AP)—Jackie Coogan, the kid of the silent movies, must not touch liquor for one year under terms of probation imposed today.

Police Judge Charles Griffin also ruled that the balding Coogan, now 36, can drive his car only on business for the next 90 days.

A 90-day jail sentence was suspended after Coogan pleaded guilty to misdemeanor drunk driving charges. He also had to pay a $150 fine.

Assembly Demos Given Reminder

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 24 (AP) — Attorney General Hall Hammond said today that Democrats in the Legislature are morally bound to vote for calling of a convention to write a new constitution for Maryland.

Hammond, voluntarily writing as a top Democrat himself, said in a letter to Sen. Goldstein, leader of the majority Democratic party:

1—The Democratic campaign platform for last year's election advocated the calling of a convention to rewrite the state's 84-year-old, much amended constitution, and

2—The electorate voted November 7 for a convention by a margin of nearly 4-to-1. The result of the referendum was 200,439 in favor of a convention call to 56,998 against.

The letter didn't budge Sen. Goldstein of Calvert County from his position as leading opponent of the pending bill.

"Glass Menagerie" Is Next Barter Theatre Production

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce will continue its series of Barter Theater productions with the presentation of Tennessee Williams "The Glass Menagerie" February 24 at Allegany High School auditorium. Curtain time is 8:15 p. m.

The cast, headed by Rex Partington, portrays the tenaciousness and imperishment of Americans during the depression. It is told in retrospect by the son, Tom, played by Partington, who is the sole support of his family after the father has abandoned them.

"The Glass Menagerie" won the Dramatic Critics prize in 1944-45 and has enjoyed a steady stream of success since. Williams' lyrical gift and sensitive characterization makes the play, in the opinion of many critics, a minor masterpiece.

Barter Theatre was originated during the depression as an economic necessity. Robert Porterfield conceived the idea of using jobless actors to form a company which would play to audiences throughout the country accepting farm produce in lieu of admission price. The produce, subsequently bartered or sold, provided the funds necessary to continue the tours. The plan was successful and Porterfield's company became known as the "Barter Theatre." Today, as "The Barter Theatre of Virginia," it plays to audiences throughout the country.

Members of the Cumberland Jaycee Committee are: K. O. Nelson, Chairman; E. V. Cozad and John Reinhard, publicity; Hugh Shires, tickets; Henry H. Lowery, Miles Amick and Ralph Higgins.

French Dike Is Holding

In Indo-China, as in Korea, the "human sea" tactics favored by Communist military strategists have not been working out quite as expected. Twice since Christmas the Vietminh forces have mounted strong offensives against the French, twice they have made initial gains, and twice they have been forced to withdraw after taking severe losses. They will have to try again if they are still determined to win a major victory.

They probably will try again, for the defense command does not think the Vietminh forces have been crippled. It is the opinion in Hanoi that the Communist-led rebels will strike once more—this time with artillery, armored vehicles, and motor transport. But there is a new confidence among the French, for they have just turned back an attack that might well have overwhelmed them only two months ago.

So the dispatches say, and they are to be read with considerable satisfaction because the loss of Indo-China to the Communists would almost certainly mean an all-Communist Asia. But it is even better to read that the Vietminh forces have been handicapped by a serious supply problem. They have plenty of men but they are having a hard time keeping them fed, clothed, armed, provided with ammunition, and cared for if wounded.

These difficulties have not seemed to trouble them overmuch in the past. But things are different now because the French have been carrying on their defense from behind a shortened perimeter, because reinforcements have arrived, and because American equipment has been put into use. Against a determined defense, it appears, even the seemingly limitless manpower resources of the Communists are not an invincible weapon.

A Million

An economist of an earlier generation once declared the average person cannot vision a million dollars. What he meant was simply that the sum of one million applied to money was beyond the understanding of the average citizen He went on to say that a million dollars would supply every need and whim of its owner, and actually make him rich beyond any human desire.

When President Truman announces a proposed budget of $71,000,000 000 even the most learned economist can hardly comprehend such sum. That is, by simple arithmetic, 71,000 millions, a staggering total. Reducing it to what may be simpler terms, Mr. Truman's demands will place a debt on every man, woman and child in the nation of nearly $400.

While the need of these billions of dollars is great, back of the spending lurks the threat of inflation, as well as a general breakdown of the nation's financial system. Fundamentally that system is based upon the integrity of the American dollar, both at home and abroad.

When it becomes necessary to dish them out in such staggering sums great care must be taken to prevent the dollar from becoming so cheap it no longer serves its purpose as the foundation of a great economy.

The China Mess

This country's "allies," who voted enthusiastically in the United Nations to send American boys to fight in Korea, now want no part of naming China as an aggressor. This has resulted in all sorts of rumors as to the course Washington may consider next. Obviously something must be done sooner or later.

There are recurring rumors of incipient plans to help Chinese guerillas with small arms. Such a step is proposed by some who contend there are 500,000 guerillas in China who are giving Mao some trouble now. Under this plan as large a force of Mao's Reds as possible would be kept pinned down in Korea while guerillas worked within the country and, perhaps later, Chiang Kai-shek worked out on the Chinese mainland.

Apparently American strategists do not intend to commit Chiang's Formosan armies at this time, assuming the State Department has weakened in its opposition to Chiang. Mao's forces would probably gobble them up. But if Mao should slip in Korea and guerillas were active in China, Chiang's forces, if equipped by the U. S might have a chance.

The situation in the Far East is a gamble, and improvisations will continue to be made by the U. S., which apparently has been deserted by the United Nations, but continues to go through the motions of presenting resolutions to the moribund outfit and having its representatives engage in interminable wrangling at meetings of the world organization.

Astonishing Failure

Cleveland police recently announced the astonishing fact that in the Greater Cleveland area no less than 50,000 motorists were driving without licenses. The figure was obtained by comparing the number of car licenses with those issued for drivers.

That the situation came about probably is due not so much to deliberate violation of the law as to procrastination in getting licenses, and a willingness to take chances on not getting caught. The amount saved, a dollar for a three-year license, is so small that economy cannot be the chief motive.

Unfortunately such seemingly small disregard for the law is a common and unattractive characteristic of most citizens. In this case the risk run, that of a suspension of driving rights, is out of all proportion to the individual's gain, either in money or convenience.

Driving without a license is not a small matter, even though the individual may be completely qualified and eligible and need only apply for the license to obtain it. The license is important, and the principle of conscientious adherence to the law is even more important. That is basic to democracy.

On Matters Of Opinion

Sometimes a question may be most happily dealt with by asking a second question. Sponsors of a festival in London commissioned a sculptor to make a statue of a mermaid for the fountain in the exhibition gardens. They were startled when the creature turned out to have not the conventional fish-like lower body but definite feminine legs terminating in fins instead of feet.

Did the sculptor, they demanded to know, consider that this was a mermaid? His reply was a question: "Who is to say what a mermaid looks like?"

Who, indeed? Thus could be raised a whole new line of conjecture.

Then considering the species homo sapiens there is an irresistible impulse to call him sap for short.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Masked Amebiasis

ILLNESSES rarely run true to form; the physician would have an easier job if they followed the pattern described in textbooks. Some diseases are more notorious in this respect than others. The worst offenders are disorders that occur in chronic form, with vague symptoms.

Amebic dysentery is an excellent illustration. Symptoms may be absent and the victim is unaware of his plight unless the stools are examined for unrelated reasons. Perhaps the man or woman has applied for a job as a food handler or happens to visit a clinic where this type of analysis is done routinely. At the opposite extreme is the individual who has enough manifestations to suggest amebiasis but the physician has difficulty proving it. There are bouts of diarrhea, with weakness, abdominal pain, nausea, and vomiting. Between attacks he feels fine. But when stool specimens are sent to the laboratory, nothing definite is found. In one instance the patient was a famous surgeon and 18 specimens were examined before the culprit was discovered. Meanwhile other causes for his diarrhea were being investigated but he was almost down to skin and bones by the time the amebic infection was detected.

Physicians believe there are more individuals walking about with this malady than is generally suspected. Many are carriers who are immune and are not bothered by the organisms. But these men and women have no guarantee that immunity will last. Actually they are in a precarious position as any operation, acute infection, or even alcoholic debauch may lower the bars sufficiently to stir up the ailment. When reactivation takes place, symptoms develop and in this respect the disease unmasks itself.

Many veterans from the Pacific theater and other areas where amebic dysentery is rife were examples of masked amebiasis. The toxic effects of the infestation were more annoying than the more common diarrhea, nausea, abdominal cramping, and other intestinal disturbances. These men were always tired and had no energy. They were depressed, irritable, and nervous. Irregularities of bowel function were noted from time to time but were so trivial they were not considered significant. At any rate, amebiasis was uncovered only after a thorough investigation which included every known laboratory test.

We now have a regimen that exceeds anything we had in the past. It consists of using a modern antibotic such as aureomycin or chloromycetin, with the old reliables, emetine, diodoquin, vioform, chiniofon, carbarsone, or a new bismuth-arsenic preparation. Now and then treatment is given in questionable cases and if symptoms disappear the physician feels certain that amebic technically existed. This is known technically as a thereapeutic test.

TOMORROW. Again, antihistaminics and the common cold.

PREVENTIVE TREATMENT

Mrs. R. writes: Is there any treatment to prevent miscarriages?

REPLY

One of the best preventives is early examination—as soon as pregnancy is suspected. After the checkup, the physician will make an attempt to eliminate or treat all the possible causes including glandular and nutritional deficiencies. In any family where there has been a series of miscarriages, the husband and wife should undergo a thorough examination for the detection of infection and a complete survey of the reproductive organs. This includes a complete evaulation of the glandular system.

AMINO ACIDS

Mrs. R. writes: I have read that amino acids help the liver. 1. Is this true? 2. What foods contain amino acids?

REPLY

1. Yes, although other foods are just as useful for [illegible]. 2. The amino acids are found in proteins and the best sources are meat, fish, poultry, dairy products, gelatine, and cereals.

DANCING AND THE SPLEEN

Mrs. B. writes: Is it harmful for a 5 year old girl who was born with an enlarged spleen to take acrobatic dancing?

REPLY

No, provided the cause of the enlarged spleen is not serious.

EPHEDRINE

G. F. writes: Is it dangerous for a person with high blood pressure to take ephedrine for asthma?

REPLY

It usually is not recommended, although the problem is an individual one that must be decided by the physician who knows the case.

EUPHORIA

L. C. D. writes: Does cortisone relieve a person of care and worry?

REPLY

Only to the extent that in some instances it produces euphoria (a sense of well being). If its use results in a dramatic cure of an illness the individual is likely to be so happy that his cares and worries leave him But the drug cannot be taken by all, like after dinner mints.

Underworld Glamor Girl Files Interesting Income Tax; Threat Of Invasion Of Japan Concerned Pentagon; Australia Proposes Armed Alliance With U. S.

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Glamor girl of the underworld is beauteous Virginia Hill in whose home racketeer Bugsie Siegel was murdered. Like most of the top hoodlums, Virginia, now Mrs. Hans Houser, files an interesting income tax showing revenue from unexplained sources.

In 1947, for instance, Virginia reported that her income was a flat $16,000 from "wagers on various sporting events." She cut this income down by claiming her brother, Charles Hill, and her mother, Margaret Hill, as dependents and in the end paid Uncle Sam a tax of $4,270.25. This was rather small considerig the trips this lady took all over the U.S.A. and Europe and the extravagant way she spent money.

The year previous, Miss Hill was a little more affluent and received an income of $23,870 from "wagers on various sporting events."

Other tax returns ran just about the same, with the revenue always from the same source, except that in 1942 she attributed her $18,000 income to "winnings from bets on races." In that year she also deducted a $1,100 contribution to the Jewish old ladies home in Los Angeles.

The history of the glamor-girl friend of hoodlums may give some insight into her sources of income. Born in Lipscond, Ala., on August 26, 1916, she attended public school through the eighth grade, and in 1933 went to Chicago as a waitress and girl about town. From 1933 to 1941 Virginia oscillated between Chicago and New York, sometimes stopping at the Madison Hotel in New York where she met Joe Adonis and Frankie Costello.

It was through them that she met Bugsie Siegel.

$11,251 Hotel Bill

After the war, Virginia took some de luxe trips to Paris in 1947 and to Mexico City in 1949 where she lived with a gay caballero named Juan Romero. She has also lived in Beverly Hills, California, the Waldorf-Astoria and the Biltmore in New York, and once owned a home on Sunset Island No 1 at Miami Beach

That her reported income does not entirely jibe with her income tax returns is indicated by the fact that her hotel bill at Sun Valley, Idaho, between January 4 and February 24, 1950 totaled $11,251.39. She paid it off in $100 bills.

At Sun Valley she first met ski instructor Hans Houser, a German national whom she married in 1950. Previously she had married L. O. Griffen in 1938, but this was annulled in 1939. Later she married Carlos Valdez Gonzales in Mexico City. This also ended in divorce.

Most interesting thing about Miss Hill's and other income tax returns made by underworld figures is that little effort is made by the Treasury to check them. Obviously such checking is difficult, for most transactions are in cash. But a lady who can afford a hotel bill of $11,251 obviously has an annual income considerably larger than $16,000 to $20,000.

Invasion Of Japan?

One of General MacArthur's cables to Washington caused a real stir in the Pentagon recently; for he reported Russian troop movements on Sakhalin, the long narrow island that skirts the coast of Siberia just north of Japan.

At first it was feared such troop movements meant a Red invasion of Japan, and the cables were kept hot between London, Paris and Washington. There is only a 25-mile stretch of water between Northern Japan and Southern Sakhalin

However, neither British Intelligence nor U. S. Central Intelligence bore out the MacArthur report. Further checking showed that it came from Japanese prisoners repatriated from Siberia where they had been kept for five years. On being questioned a second time the prisoners admitted they had only been "told" of Russian troops in Southern Sakhalin, had not actually seen them. It may have been significant that they were "told" of these troop movements by the Russians shortly before their release—a possible byplay in the war of nerves.

However, it remains a fact that the Soviet does have heavy troop concentrations not far from Japan on the Siberian mainland. Steve Nagel, who made expert studies of Russian strength by interrogating German prisoners after the war, has made some of the most comprehensive surveys of Soviet Siberian strength so far published and estimates that 750,000 Red soldiers are now training opposite Japan and Alaska.

He also estimates that the Red Army has 4,500 planes in this area, plus a number of airborne divisions, plus about 100 submarines.

On the other hand, U. S. strategists in the Pentagon figure that our forces in Japan are strong enough to block any Russian attack. They depend on extremely heavy U. S. naval forces in the Far East, plus the largest group of jet fighters we have anywhere in the world. But most important of all, they depend on the atom bomb.

It is no longer a secret that the atom bomb is on hand and ready for use in or near Japan. Atomic retaliation against Russia unquestionably remains the most powerful deterrent we have against Soviet aggression.

U. S. Aussie Alliance

U. S. relations with Australia, extremely close during the war, now may become even closer. The Australian government has formally proposed a military alliance with the United States.

In some respects this would make Australia more of a partner to Uncle Sam than to John Bull, which was virtually the case during the war. For Australian External Minister Herbert Evatt spent most of his time in Washington rather than in London urging more concentration of U. S. military power in the Far East. Simultaneously Prime Minister Churchill spent his time in Washington urging more concentration of U. S. military power in Europe.

Today history is repeating. Prime Minister Attlee is urging the United States to keep out of China, withdraw from Korea and concentrate on Europe; while Australia is urging us to watch China.

External Minister Percy Spencer has told the American Embassy in Canberra that he hopes the new alliance can be concluded this year.

4-H Clubs For Asia

America's famous 4-H clubs will become a weapon in the desperate fight against communism in Asia. Young farmers from Southeast Asia will be brought to this country to study the 4-H clubs and adapt them to their own countries.

The idea came to Allen Griffin, ECA's Far Eastern chief, during a recent tour of Indo-China, Siam and Burma. Later he told Washington colleagues: "If the young people of Asia become interested in better farming, they will be a powerful ally in the drive to raise the standard of living. I think 4-H clubs for Asia can help accomplish this."

Another aspect of the program Griffin brought back is to train young Asiatic farmers in Oriental agriculture at the University of Hawaii.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

The Chance Of War—II

WASHINGTON

A fundamental change has come over the world situation in the last six months. The Soviet Union, for the first time, has made certain obvious preparations for a military move in Europe. The pattern suggests an attack on Yugoslavia; but measures have also been taken to prepare for a larger onslaught on Western Europe by the 35 Soviet divisions in East Germany and Poland.

Such is the simplest summary of a previous report in this space. It did not cover the equally striking pattern on the Indo-Chinese border, where a Chinese "liberation army" of 250,000 men stands ready to drive southward when and if its Sino-Russian joint staff gives the order. Nor did the previous report include such other intelligence as the recent appearance of at least one and perhaps two additional Russian divisions, plus puppet forces formed from Japanese prisoners, on the island of Sakhalin.

The concentration on Sakhalin hold out an obvious threat of airborne attack on the nearby, almost undefended Japanese north island of Hokkaido. Alarmists point out that the Kremlin would combine an operation against Hokkaido with an attempt to isolate our forces in Korea by submarine and a action. But in view of the extreme Soviet weakness at sea except in submarines, the reinforcement of Sakhalin is more generally regarded as a war-of-nerves measure to discourage us from carrying on the Korean fight.

Three Main Points

The meaning of all the different troop movements and military measures around the perimeter of the Soviet empire can be similarly disputed. Yet three points stand out from the broad picture. First, water does not protect Southeast Asia and Europe from direct attack, as it partly protects Japan. Second, the Kremlin has never before been really ready to attack either in Southeast Asia or in Europe, but has got ready now. Third, almost all the preparations have been made within the short space of the last six months.

The timing is vital. In effect, this immense job of fitting the missing parts into the Soviet war machine has been done since the Korean war started. Moreover, the job was already well-begun before there was any serious attempt to rearm Western Germany.

These facts in turn suggest the change that the Korean experience has wrought in Soviet policy and tactics. Last June, there was no doubt that the Kremlin intended to imitate the feat of Hitler between 1936 and 1939, when he absorbed half of Europe without firing a shot, by the simple expedient of frightening people out of their wits. Great demonstrations of Soviet power and Western weakness, beginning in Korea and going on from there, were to lead from surrender to surrender. Eventually the Western alliance was thus to be broken, and the

Congress' Unanimous Vote Clarifies U. S. Position

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — The Congress of the United States by a unanimous vote of both houses has taken the unprecedented step of notifying the United Nations that Red China should be declared an aggressor.

This carries with it the implication that the Congress—which alone possesses the war-making power under our Constitution—is ready to proclaim, if necessary, a naval blockade of Red China and to apply economic penalties by shutting off all trade.

The entire world has been told now that the American government, irrespective of party, stands united on the issue of declaring Red China an aggressor. Soviet Russia and Red China are now aware that, whatever may have been the dissensions of the past here on foreign policy, there is unanimity now on the matter of resisting aggression.

The action of both houses of Congress is of far-reaching importance whether or not the UN votes favorably on the American resolution to brand Red China as the aggressor. Had the motion in the UN been adopted without the passage of a congressional resolution, there might have been doubts abroad as to the extent to which the Congress would go in backing up the executive here.

UN A Debating Forum

If, on the other hand, the UN now fails to muster the necessary majority for the adoption of the American resolution, the UN members will face a rather embarrassing situation. The United States will have to decide then whether to go it alone in the Far East or whether to consider the UN has failed in dealing with aggression. Such a failure could mean that, in any future aggressions by any other nations, the United States would feel free to disassociate itself and act alone.

Clearly the future of the UN as an effective instrument of international policy hangs in the balance. America may have to develop foreign policies now without regard to the collective action of the assembly and may consider a move to abandon the plan whereby a majority of the nations can take collective measures in defense of the charter. Thus the UN might have to become merely a debating forum and not a parliament of nations.

The United States, as the sponsor of the recent move to utilize the assembly for the promulgation of measures to resist aggression, can with consistency urge that the problem of aggression hereafter be dealt with by regional agreements. This would mean that reciprocal treaties or agreements could be made whereby other nations would be aided by the United States only on condition that they pledge themselves to furnish aid to this country when its interests are jeopardized through the aggression of a third state.

The hesitation of Great Britain and other member nations to vote immediately for a resolution by the UN to declare Red China an aggressor has alienated many people here who hitherto have been ready to excuse the dilatoriness of the Attlee government. Such apologies are no longer heard. For the Attlee government has repeatedly shown itself much more concerned about its investments in Hong Kong than in the continued support of the United States.

Anglo-American Relations Hurt

In the final analysis, it is predicted that the British will reluctantly go along with American policy. But the cost already has been considerable and Anglo-American relations have suffered an injury which only a Churchill may some day be able to heal.

Out of all the resolutions voted by Congress, what stands out it the Senate resolution, also adopted unanimously, which would bar Red China from admission to the UN. This alone ought to accentuate to European countries the lengths to which American legislators have been provoked to go by the appeasement policies sponsored by the Attlee government, India and the Arab countries. Plainly America is beginning to discover that she has fewer friends among the nations of the world in a showdown than she thought she had.

Would the United States some day, if Britain is attacked and the UN spends several weeks debating whether Soviet Russia is an aggressor, hesitate to condemn aggression? The British government may well ask itself that question today in fairness to the American people.

These Days By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Question Of Books

IT USED TO BE that a man with an idea or an ambition wrote a book and got a publisher to project it to the public. Some newspapers and magazines turned to learned men to comment on the book. That neither made nor killed the book. Nor did any one publication have a monopoly of book reviewing or of book advertising.

Actually no publication enjoys a full monopoly in this reviewing field today. But because publishers have found it cheaper to place advertisements in fewer publications three of them have become foremost in this field, namely, the book sections of the Sunday "New York Times" and the Sunday "Herald Tribune," and the "Saturday Review of Literature."

Librarians often make their purchases of new books on the basis of what these three publications say about a book, which is a lazy way of doing things—but then we live in a lazy, 40-hour week world. Should a particular group of reviewers gain currency in all these publications, a book could be killed by common consent among them.

Now along comes Irene Corbally Kuhn, a responsible journalist with a long experience, who writes an article for "The American Legion Magazine" entitled "Why You Buy Books That Sell Communism." It is an important article in these days.

She makes the point that not only librarians but saleswomen in bookshops are influenced by book reviews in these publications. Mrs Kuhn says:

(The saleswoman) ". . . guided her purchases of books, especially reorders, by what the reviewers said. She felt the 'experts' those big important newspapers chose to review for them knew more about books than she did."

Mrs. Kuhn then shows conclusively that there is a left-wing literary network consisting of interchangeable writers and reviewers who praise each other's works and who either condemn, ignore or slander the works of conservative writers. This was equally true, for many years of editors and readers for magazines and publishing houses.

I had a peculiar experience in 1942, when Doubleday, Doran asked me to do a book. I had no particular desire to write a book of any kind at that time but I said that I would be willing to consider one subject, namely, "Asia for the Asiatics."

I wanted—mind you, this was 1942—to show that all Asiatics hate the Europeans and Americans because of Anglo-Saxon racial superiority and that one of the results of the war then going on, whether Japan won or lost, would be that the Asiatic would seek to drive the white man off his continent.

The editor seemed to be quite enthusiastic, while we conversed, but subsequently turned the idea down on the grounds that it was not timely.

That did not bother me, for with my obligations what they are, this would have been a terrific chore both of research and writing. The fact that events turned out as I had then indicated, only shows what the real nonsense of "timeliness" is. However, I learned later that the opposition to the book came from a left-wing group.

As a case history, Mrs. Kuhn takes among others, John T. Flynn's "The Road Ahead," a remarkably accurate survey of our situation and a book that has had wide distribution, especially by public organizations. She quotes Mr. Devin Garrity, the publisher, as follows:

"We published the book and waited for the reviews, especially the Sunday 'New York Herald Tribune'. After two months, when it seemed fairly certain there would be no review, I instituted some inquires and learned that the review copy had been received and was on file, but that it had been marked for the silent treatment. No review was scheduled for it. We then bought advertising space in the 'Herald Tribune's Sunday book section and ran the excellent and fair review of Mr. Flynn's book which had been written by John Chamberlain . . ."

"The Herald Tribune" then changed its position and a review did appear—"a smear job," according to Mr. Garrity, "to counteract the effect of the favorable Chamberlain review we had bought the space to run."

I have no more room to discuss this article, but if you want to read it, write to The American Legion Magazine, 580 Fifth Avenue, New York 19, New York. They have been circulating reprints. This is well worth your while.

ALONG THE POTOMAC TO WASHINGTON

(By Representative J. Glenn Beall, Sixth Maryland District)

IN the last few months of the 81st Congress, federal taxes were increased by an estimated $7,700,000,000 to a little more than $45 billion a year, the highest in our history to that date. Now, however, the President's budget for fiscal year 1952 calls for a $71½ billion budget with tax increases to $16 billion and possibly running to $20 billion. To balance the budget and pay-as-you-go, as some suggest, federal taxes will have to be raised another $500 a year for every man, woman and child in the country. Many fear such a huge tax boost would wreck our national economy and defeat its own purpose. Others argue the only practical way to raise this tremendous revenue would be through some form of federal sales tax on manufacturers or consumers. Needless to say, it will have to be raised someway if we are not to have further huge federal deficits.

The House, in the first bill passed by the 82nd Congress, unanimously approved $2 billion Naval expansion bill, providing for 173 new warships, and for the conversion of 291 others. Included in the new vessels is a 57,000 ton super aircraft carrier to handle atomic bombers at a cost of $235 million. The epublican 80th Congress voted funds for a 65,000 ton super carrier which the Navy started to build in 1949, but later abandoned on orders of the President and Secretary of Defense Johnson, at a cancellation cost of $20 million. The new carrier will cost $46 million more than the larger original carrier, making the Truman - Johnson cancellation order cost $66 million, and 18 months of precious time.

The 82nd Congress is getting off at a slow start. Big changes in membership with 71 new representatives and 9 new senators requiring much reshuffling in committee assignments. Makeup of the House is now 234 Democrats, 199 Republicans, 1 Liberal - Democrat and 1 Independent. The Senate has 48 Democrats, 1 Democrat-Liberal and 47 Republicans. In addition to committee reshuffling, Congress must wait upon the President's recommendations for a $71½ billion budget and $16 to $20 billion tax increase.

Cooperation between our allies and us in the matter of denying war potential goods to Russia is revealed by the fact that only after a sharp note from us did France cancel an order for 139,000 tons of steel rails destined for Red China, a Soviet partner, fighting us in Korea. Also Britain and Holland, two members of the Atlantic Pact, are supplying Russia and Red China with increasing supplies of rubber. We cannot afford or

Kamilla Athey Is Honored At Pre-Nuptial Parties

Is Fiancee Of John T. Morris

Mrs. Angela Jenkins, Miss Christine Alderton and Miss Josephine Esposita entertained with a miscellaneous shower and pre-nuptial party in compliment to Miss Kamilla Floy Athey, Tuesday evening at Miss Esposita's home, Woodlawn Terrace.

Miss Athey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor S. Athey, 563 Patterson Avenue, is the fiancee of John T. Morris, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Morris, Davis, W. Va., and will become his bride, Friday.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 7 p.m., in First Baptist Church with Rev. O. Afton Linger officiating. Mrs. Jenkins is to be the bride's matron of honor and only attendant and Bernard Wolford will serve as Mr. Morris' best man.

White satin streamers, tied with wedding rings, were suspended from the chandelier over the shower gifts arranged upon a table. Streamers also extended to the corners of the room. The same motif was repeated in the tiered wedding cake adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom centering the buffet lunch table. The evening was spent informally.

Other guests were Mrs. Athey, Mrs. Harry Hart, Mrs. Louise Walker, Mrs. Thelma Del Signore, Mrs. Audrie Baker, Mrs. Samuel Esposita, Mrs. Carolyn Welsh, Miss Monica Browning, Miss Mildred Abbott, Miss Elsie Bowman and Miss Angela Wilson.

Miss Athey was also an honor guest together with Mrs. Ora Hamilton, recent bride; and Miss Maxine Leonard, fiancee of Thomas Allison, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; of Miss Althea Birchard and Mrs. Betty Flick, at the latter's home, North Chase Street, recently. The bridal motif was carried out in the white flowers used throughout the house and decorating the table. A buffet style lunch was served. Other guests were Mrs. Lee Cohn, Miss Marguerite Spicer and Miss Joan Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. Athey and Mrs. Jon S. Cranor, LaVale, aunt of Mr. Morris, are entertaining with a wedding reception for the bridal party and intimate friends, at the new home of Mr. Morris and his bride, 223 Fulton Street, following the ceremony.

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON

IF EVER a house were haunted, creaking with silence and full of emptiness—that house is the old German Embassy . . . And the other day the U. S. Government advertised it for sale.

Mr. Clarence Smith (in charge of the Real Estate Section of the Justice Department's Office of Alien Property) expects it'll be bought for its good location on Massachusetts Avenue, and torn down.

AUSTINE

Of course, not just anybody can walk in and plank down cash for it . . . If you hanker to purchase an ex-embassy, owned by Hitler's Germany and the Kaiser's Imperial government since 1893, you must turn in a sealed bid . . The bids won't be opened until February 16 . . . And no use bothering to bid unless you're an American citizen and can submit an affidavit that you won't turn around and re-sell it to an alien.

If you are the successful bidder, you can take over the 90 rooms, including a ballroom and a dozen bathrooms, and set yourself up where doomed Germany's diplomats once boiled and brewed their plans . . . Before that dark December day in 1941 when they were bundled up and shipped off to White Sulphur Springs.

Later, during the war, when the neutral Swiss took over the building, they found besides the splendid furniture (since sold at auction) and the three million dollars in American currency (since turned over to the Treasury), and a huge portrait of Hitler (nobody seems to know what's happened to that)—besides these they found a heavy-set man in overalls, say 40 or 50 years old.

The Swiss nicknamed the fellow "Mr. X" . . . because this faithful caretaker was Frank X. (for Xavier) Korber.

A German by birth, but an American citizen, he had worked at the embassy for the Germans, but when they left he stayed on . . . And there in the back of the former German Embassy he still lives, the only living thing left over from the Nazi regime.

Frank Korber has tended with almost loving hands the old house, built of brick in the grand Gothic style at the century's turn . . . The mansion probably reminds him of a once great lady who married beneath her and wears darned stockings . . . But Frank has tried to keep her in shape, patching the roof, mending windows, walking through the echoing rooms until the house seems familiar as an old friend. . .

And, often, scenes he remembers drift to mind . . . How the German diplomats, before World War II, scurried in and out of the Code Room and other secret rooms, guarded with steel, burglarproof, fireproof doors . . . A fever of activity . . . How some of them he could sense in his heart were true Nazis and some were afraid not to be . . . How some of them as they were leaving actually spat in his face . . . Screamed at him . . . If he were a true German he would go with them.

He was glad when they'd gone, but he was lonely . . . Living in one of the servant's rooms at the back of the Embassy, he talked to no one, saw no one for months on end . . . Then the Swiss, who were handling the property, began occasionally to send one of their vigorous, shining countrymen to sweep, dust, clean and keep order . . . She was the only person Frank could, or would, talk to . . . She not only brought order to the house but a warm light into his eyes . . . Five years ago they were married and today have two babies, the latest six months old.

No other honeymooners in America lived in a stranger atmosphere . . . Next month this first home of theirs will be put on the auction block . . . The caretaker and his little family will have to find new quarters.

"We'd like a modern apartment building!" beams Mrs. Korber, whose orderly Swiss soul longs for modern conveniences.

In any event when they move a page of their stranger-than-fiction life-story will be turned forever.

And when the old German Embassy disappears, for Washington, too, another chapter of history will be finished.

That's the end of the Feature Film . . . Now how about some Snappy Short Reels?

Check your eating habits against the three rules for retaining youthful attributes which are reviewed today!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

LONG BEFORE the "life begins at forty stage," every woman should teach herself to prefer the foods that will help her retain the attributes of youth—verve and a radiant appearance. If you get your appetite and taste preferences under control early you will not only never have a weight problem, but will always be younger in appearance and in heart than in birthdays.

Of course, it is never too late to start eating for beauty and health. Even after years of abuse, many a woman has regained a far more youthful appearance, just by correcting her eating habits.

Foods to Keep You Young

If you want to feel and look your best, keep these points about your daily diet in mind for the rest of your life:

1. Eat much less of those "fuel" foods, the starches and sugars, than you did before maturity. Because you are less active as an adult than as a child, you need less for energy. Consequently, any overage you consume will only add pounds that make you feel lethargic. No asset for the charmer at any age!

2. Consume plenty of high vitamin and mineral foods, fruits, vegetables and milk, for the continuing beauty of your skin and hair.

3. Make sure to get your daily requirements of protein foods, lean meats cheese and eggs, for renewal of tissue. Ask your doctor whether you are one of the persons who can benefit by following the new, high-protein diets.

Ageless Menu

Try patterning your daily menus after this sample:

Breakfast: Fresh (or canned) blackberries (high in vitamin C). One-egg omelette, 1 thin slice of toasted dark bread, 1 thin pat of butter, coffee (with milk if desired, but no cream or sugar).

Lunch: Hot vegetable plate, melba toast, milk or buttermilk.

Dinner: Lean Swiss steak, steamed onions, 1 small potato, tomato aspic with cottage cheese on greens, fresh (or canned) pineapple, tea or coffee with milk if desired.

Don't be HALF-SAFE

by VALDA SHERMAN

Many mysterious changes take place in your body as you mature. Now, the glands under your arms begin to secrete daily a new type of perspiration containing substances which will—if they reach your dress—cause ugly stains and clinging odor.

You'll face this problem throughout womanhood. It's not enough merely to stop the odor of this perspiration. You must now use a deodorant that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches—and ruins—your clothes.

As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It's been proved that the new cream deodorant Arrid stops underarm perspiration 1 to 3 days safely—keeps underarms dry and sweet.

Remember this, too. Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact—prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps you "shower-bath" fresh. And it's safe for skin—safe for fabrics.

So, don't be half-safe. Don't risk your happiness with half-safe deodorants. Be Arrid-safe! Use Arrid to be sure. Arrid with Creamogen will not dry out, and it's so pleasant and easy to apply. Get Arrid today—only 39¢ plus tax.

"I GET SO NERVOUS, RESTLESS TIRED, CRANKY several days before my monthly period . . . but I find Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound wonderful to relieve this distress"

"I find that several days just before my period I feel so nervous, irritable, so restless and tired—due to female functional monthly disturbances. But thank my lucky stars my druggist told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I now get simply amazing relief. Lydia Pinkham's Compound also relieves monthly pain. Taken regularly—it helps build up resistance against such distress.

"What I like about Lydia Pinkham's Compound is that it's made strictly from nature's own roots and herbs (plus vitamin B1)—there are no harmful drugs in it. I can honestly say I feel like a different woman since I've been taking this amazing medicine. I wish girls or women troubled this way would give it a fair trial."

P.S. Pinkham's Compound tastes swell in a little fruit juice. Or you may prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron—easy to carry in your purse.

Miners' Raise Will Cause Coal Hike

The recent wage hike for the soft coal industry will mean an increase in the price of coal to the consumer here, it was indicated yesterday.

While the actual effect of the increase has not been determined by some of the main suppliers for local firms, one dealer estimated yesterday morning the increase might be as much as 30 cents a ton.

The miner's increase of $1.60 cents a day is effective February 1 and retail prices are expected to rise at the same time.

Dealers in other cities have estimated the increase might mean from 50 to 75 cents on the ton. They also expect agreement in the hard coal industry soon and a similar increase in the retail price.

Sanitary Commission Employees Get Raise

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners Tuesday approved salary rates for two employes of the LaVale Sanitary Commission.

It was done at the request of William B. Ludman, chairman of the LaVale group. Approval of the salary rates is a formality under the legislation which set up the sanitary commission.

The LaVale Sanitary Commission pays the salaries from taxes levied within the commission's jurisdiction and from water charges.

Salary rates approved call for $300 monthly for a secretary-treasurer and $35 weekly for a clerk-stenographer.

Lowndes Calls For More Schools, Better Teacher Pay

The president of the State Board of Education urged immediate action by the Legislature to provide more school buildings and more pay for teachers.

Both problems must be met "boldly and without equivocation to forestall the consequences that will inevitably arise unless we take action now," Tasker G. Lowndes, this city, declared in a statement.

Lowndes referred to the last war when no buildings could be constructed and teachers left "in droves" for better paying jobs.

The same thing is being done again by the teachers," said Lowndes.

"The problem of salaries should be acted upon immediately," he stated. "The state should provide an increase immediately through the regular state salary law and with additional state funds, and the counties and Baltimore City should add to their salaries as the situation demands."

School teachers got their last pay raise in 1947 when the sales tax was instituted.

"We thought we had solved" the teacher pay problem, the state educator said, but it has become acute again in the past few months because of the war emergency.

New school construction costing $125,000,000 is needed, according to a survey by the State Department of Education. The state has completed or is finishing $105,000,000 in school building it started five years ago.

Property Sold

John R. Dehne and Dorothy Madeline Dehne have sold half of a lot in LaVale, with improvements, to William H. Grove and Jeanette M. Grove in a $7,750 transaction, according to a deed filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of circuit court. The property is situated on National Highway about 800 feet west of Camp Ground Road.

Wes Fesler Named Head Grid Coach At Minnesota

Former Star's Appointment Is Surprise

Ex-Ohio State Mentor Signs 3-Year Contract

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 24 (INS)—Wesley Fesler, who quit Ohio State because of pressure from second-guessers, accepted a three-year contract today as football coach of the University of Minnesota.

Wes Fesler

Athletic Director Ike Armstrong announced the appointment and said Fesler would receive a salary of $14,000 a year.

The naming of Fesler came as a complete surprise since the former Ohio State All-American previously had announced his intention to leave football to enter the real estate business.

He succeeds Bernie Bierman as boss of the Gophers. Bierman resigned near the end of last year after one of the worst Minnesota football season's in history.

Fesler resigned as coach at Ohio State following the 1950 season. He had threatened such action the previous season after winning the Rose Bowl game.

He brings with him line coach Lyal Clark and backfield coach Dick Fisher of Ohio State and a system that combines both the T-formation and the single wing.

It was Bierman's refusal to switch from the single wing to the T-formation that led to his downfall after winning four national championships in the 30's and early 40's.

Minnesota newspapermen called Bierman's rock-em-sock-em football "stone age strategy." Bierman has not sought another job since leaving Minnesota.

Fesler has not yet indicated whether he would ask any of Bierman's assistants to remain on the Minnesota staff.

Fesler coached at Ohio State four years. He was boss of the University of Pittsburgh football team for one season and also helped coach basketball and football at Harvard and Connecticut Wesleyan.

Woman Sues Louis For Alleged Assault

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis was sued for $100,000 today by a woman who said he beat her up in a Cleveland Hotel room last July 4.

The plaintiff in the supreme court damage suit is Odessa Calloway, 25-year-old New York negro golfer, who said she was attending a Cleveland golf tourney at the time.

She did not go into details of the alleged assault beyond charging that Louis "violently and in a brutal manner, assaulted, struck and beat me about the head, face, body and limbs without provocation."

Mt. Savage Little League Has Election

George McGann Is President Of Loop

MT. SAVAGE, Jan. 24—Officers of the newly formed Little Baseball League were elected at a meeting of Mt. Savage residents this week at the Knights of Columbus hall and plans for the next meeting were formulated.

George McGann was elected president of the four-team independent circuit, John Deffinbaugh, vice president and Colin Barth, secretary-treasurer.

Members of various local organizations who are interested in the formation of the new league were named to the board of directors at the meeting. They are Henry Lashley and Colin Barth of the Mt. Savage Veterans of Foreign Wars, Grover Green of Volunteer Fire Company, Peter Hughes and Joseph Nolan, Dr., of the Mt. Savage American Legion Post, and Dr. William E. Moseley and Patrick Fannon, Mt. Savage Lions Club.

Thirty-five boys ranging in ages from 9 to 13 have been registered for the league and others may register at Mt. Savage Junior High School between 8:30 and 9 p. m. until Sunday, January 28. Thomas Lewis is in charge of registration at the school.

Officers and board of directors of the league will hold their next meeting Sunday in the Knights of Columbus hall at 2 p. m.

Roy Campanella Signs; Gets Salary Boost

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (INS)—Roy Campanella, ace catcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, signed a one-year contract today for approximately $20,000, an increase of $8,000 over last year.

Last year he accepted most chances in the National League (748), had most putouts (683) and led in throwing out base runners, nabbing 32 of the 48 who tried to steal.

He rated just behind Ralph Kiner of the Pirates as a home-run hitter with 31 to his credit. He also led the league's catchers in hits (123), runs (70) total bases (241) and runs batted in (89).

No Special Draft Status Is Planned For 4-F Athletes

Defense Head Says Changes To Be Made

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—The excitement over drafting 4-F athletes into the armed services today simmered down to this:

Atnletes will get the same treatment every one else does, no better and no worse.

Furthermore, a spokesman for the Surgeon General's office said that's the way it was in World War II. He said athletes who were classified in 4-F then definitely belonged there.

A reminder: under the present law, only those who are from 19 to 26 years old are eligible. The field is further cut down because those who are married, are veterans or have dependents are exempt.

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, told reporters today:

"Athletes will be regarded like anyone else when it comes to possible deferment."

In this she was amplifying a statement made yesterday by her boss, Secretary of Defense Marshall.

Marshall shocked the sports world all the way down to its sweat socks by saying it may be necessary to draft for limited service some athletes who flunk their selective service exams and wind up 4-Fs.

Mrs. Rosenberg says that doesn't mean athletes will be singled out for special treatment. She gave this example:

"If an athlete has a punctured eardrum, he will be inducted because men with punctured eardrums are taken."

Mrs. Rosenberg told a congressional committee last week that, if 18-year-olds are drafted, 300,000 of them would not be able to pass the present draft tests.

She said under a proposed change in standards, 100,000 of these 300,000 would be acceptable.

So far, she hasn't said what these changes would be.

Club To Meet

The Mt. Savage Baseball Club of the Bi-State League will hold a meeting Sunday at 3 p. m. in the Knights of Columbus hall. All members are urged to atend.

Sisler Returns Phils Contracts Unsigned

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 24—(AP)—Dick Sisler, the man who gave the Philadelphia Phillies a National League pennant with one swing of the bat, doesn't like the pay offers from the Phils so far.

"We've just had a little disagreement over a few thousand dollars," Sisler said today.

He has received two contracts, both calling for increases, he said, but both have gone back to the club unsigned.

Ken Church Ties For Riding Honors

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 24 (AP) — The epidemic of upsets continued at Hialeah Park today when Rarco Stable's Prepared made every role a winning one in the fourth race and paid $95.60, $33.10 and $16.60.

In his previous start here, while racing in slightly cheaper company, Prepared, ridden then by Joe Culmone, finished a bad last in a field of eleven. This time, with R. J. Martin up, he defeated Wolf Whistle, Piragua and Mucho Mas. The colt went the six furlongs in 1.11 3/5.

Hugh A. Grant's Wise Choice, with Willie Passmore riding, had little trouble beating 11 other 3-year-old maiden fillies in the third. She had all the speed in clicking by a length and a half from Our Jester, paying $24.20. Sail Cloth was a distant third. The time was a slow 1.13 3/5.

The daily double was worth $50.90, after White Oak Stable's Blue Man, ($8.10) won the opening dash for maiden juveniles, and Hal Price Headley's Flamingo candidate, Gray Mater ($11.60,) romped off with the second under Logan Batcheller. Ken Church tied Hedley Woodhouse for the meeting's riding honors getting his eighth marker on Blue Man.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 24—(INS)—Alan Curtis and his bride, the former Betty Dodero, are saying farewell to the U. S. A. and are leaving for France and Spain where Alan will produce "The Seine," a story about the famous river which has been immortalized in fiction and in reality.

Just before he left, Alan told me about the time he was arrested in Italy. It was during the war, and because his real name is a German one he was called before the authorities. "I was in uniform with the American Army," he said, "and it was soon proved that I was born in the U. S. A."

At that time Alan had to give an oath of allegiance to all of the allies, including Russia. So, before he left for Europe, he contacted the FBI to see if that would make trouble for him abroad.

Here comes Richard Tregaskis, former INS war correspondent, again with a big idea for the movies.

Tregaskis, who was wounded in World War II, and whose "Guadalcanal Diary" made history, is writing the life story of Gen. Maurice Rose.

Gen. Rose, son of a rabbi, led the gallant Third Armored Division, the forefront for Gen. Patton's memorable dash across Europe. He was killed in action, and his widow has given Tregaskis permission to write his story, which will be called "Spearhead."

On what I laughingly call my day off, I rushed to have a late luncheon with Anita Loos.

We chatted with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who came and sat with us. Doug says his three-year-old daughter keeps saying "exclusive." "And that," said Doug, "comes from hearing you on the radio."

Merle Oberon dropped by and said that she has already been paid for her RKO picture, but if she doesn't get an assignment within a certain time, she's free to return to Paris. She'll sell her home in Bel-Air and make her home in France.

Mildred Knopf, who is one of Hollywood's really unusual women, also joined us. Said Anita:

"Mildred does needlework that could very well be displayed in a museum. She's just finished a carpet that is in the class with Queen Mary's classic work."

Then Mildred told us she had written 40,000 words on her new novel. She also said that Rose, Marchioness of Headford, arrives next week to be her house guest.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Eugene O'Brien, veteran actor, is in Queen of Angels for major surgery.

It's a baby son for the Josef Von Sternbergs, born in Weehawken, New Jersey. The young man's name is Michael Josef.

John Barrymore, Jr., who is growing up fast, glimpsed at the Tallyho with pretty USC Coed Marsha Williams.

Sarah Churchill, who flew to England to spend a few days with her father, the one and only Winston, will be back with Tony Beaucamp almost before this item is in the column. I wish they'd come back to Hollywood. We all miss them.

John Huston says that he hasn't bought Budd Schulberg's book, "The Disenchanted," and Budd says he has not yet sold it.

Hopalong Cassidy, who had a sensational trip to South America where he was given a great ovation, arrives in Houston in a few days. Bob Stapler, his business manager, goes there to meet him.

Congratulations have been telephoned and telegraphed to Kay and Broderick Crawford since my exclusive story of their expected blessed event.

Betty Grable has new neighbors. Betty and Jack Cummings have bought the house next door.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Mineral County Accidents Cost $55,850 Damage

State Police Stress Five Lives Lost In '50

KEYSER, W. Va.—Property damage in Mineral county during 1950, as a result of automobile accidents, was $55,850, according to West Virginia State Police in Keyser in the annual statement just issued.

In addition to the property loss, the report stresses that five persons lost their lives and 108 others were injured in the 12-month period.

The Keyser office of State police investigated 113 accidents, an average of one accident every three days.

Activity of state police in the county was not, however, confined to highway patrol service. The report shows that 736 hours were spent investigating major crimes, such as breaking and entering, grand and petit larceny and felonious assault. In connection with this, 79 reports were submitted and filed and 87 persons were arrested and charged with felonies. Five motor vehicles were recovered with a total valuation of $5,200, and other stolen property recovered, amounting to $1,049.22.

Eighty-seven felony arrests were made, 152 persons were arrested and charged with road violations and 97 others were charged with miscellaneous misdemeanors such as petty larceny, assault and battery and intoxication, for a grand total of 336 arrests for major and minor law violations.

The majority of the minor arrests were disposed of by payment of fines amounting to more than $2,000.

Other portions of the report disclose that during the year 714 motor vehicles were checked and 227 warnings were issued for mechanical defects and for failure to comply with the law with reference to having regular and operator's licenses in possession of the driver of cars. There were 533 persons examined for drivers licenses and notice of revocation were served on 15 drivers.

The members of the Keyser office, Cpl. O. G. Webley and Trooper W. Frank Bowley, express, in their report, their appreciation for the cooperation of the other police organizations, both in and out of Mineral County and also in adjoining states.

Sites Is Named Minority Clerk

KEYSER, W. Va.—Leonard Sites, director of organization of the Young Republican League of West Virginia, has been named minority clerk of the 50th session of the West Virginia House of Delegates.

John I. Rogers, veteran Republican member of the House from Mineral County, remarked that he is well pleased with the appointment of his attache to the important post.

Duet in Terry Cloth

Terry Cloth Robes

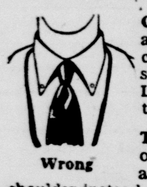
FASHION: A brand-new idea is a terry cloth bathrobe-beach-robe just adapted from the duffer storm coats so popular this season. Being absorbent, it's fine to wrap up in whether you step out of a shower or the surf.

Dress Tips: If a zipper shows the least sign of being out of order, don't wait for an embarrassing moment—have it checked by your men's wear store without delay. . . . If you suddenly discover that your French cuffs are soiled or frayed and there's no fresh shirt immediately at hand, just turn them inside out—for the emergency.

Gadgets: A heavy canvas duck log-carrier—that makes it a bit easier to trundle in logs for the fireplace. . . . Pocket-size key-wind alarm with a shrill siren you can set off with a flick of a switch—if danger threatens.

New Ideas: Comedian Morey Amsterdam is seeking a patent on a new type of luggage—has built-in rollers on bottom for easier transportation. . . . Bandleader Sammy Kaye, who often has to pack clothes right after taking them off, uses moisture-absorbent crystals in his bags—for quick drying. Paramount Pictures' barber Victor Honig—backed by John Lund and others—is marketing a scalp tonic that the stars use.

Show World: Robert Alda, who's such a smash in "Guys & Dolls," may revive a fad for the deep-tone shirts he wears on stage. Mark Hellinger never stopped wearing them. . . . And colorful bathrobes are getting a boost—by courtesy of the TV wrestlers. . . . Howard Hughes once startled New York by appearing in tuxedo and sneakers.



Wrong

Right

Clothes Care: Coat should hug neck at back and sides. Gapping is often caused by putting on coat carelessly: sometimes by stretching of cloth. Latter can be easily corrected by tailor.

The Man Pays: So help take care of her furs! Never hang her coat on a hook by the neck—hang it by one shoulder instead, using the pad as protection. . . . It's nice to hold a gal by the arm while strolling—but too much of it will cause wear on the coat's elbows. Hold hands instead! . . . Never put her coat atop or next to a radiator. It can scorch the fur—and you can lose the girl. . . . Warn her against "bar elbows," caused by leaning too long on a slick surface. . . . Watch your cigarette. Fur singes so easily.

Handyman: To prevent nuts from freezing on bolts through rusting, dip threads of bolts in shellac first. They'll always come apart thereafter. . . . To make easier work of cleaning icy sidewalks and shoveling snow, put a thick coating of soap on the sliding surface of the shovel.

Words of Wisdom: Clifton Webb, a best-dressed expert, says: "I do not dress expensively. Any man can dress well and within his income if he has good taste and some sense of selectivity.

Expert on Dress

Odd Notes: Sanford, Fla., has an organization named "Friendship Front," where, on the payment of $1,000, you get a room for the rest of your life. . . . Recommended: the hilarious tome, "Fractured French," by F. S. Pearson. . . . 24 states now bar hitchhiking . . . When starting a transatlantic run, the Queen Elizabeth carries 1,600,000 gallons of water . . . Horseman Arnold Hanger claims he always breaks in a new hat by wearing it under the shower! (We do not recommend it!) . . . This week's "Pass the Cigars" to—Jack Gilford, who transferred from Broadway to the Met opera so creditably in "Fledermaus."

Matter Of Fact

thwarted in some way or other, will deduce from the opposition a menace first to his plans, then to national prestige, and finally to the existence of the state itself—and so regarding his country as the party attacked, will engage in (what he considers) a war of defense."

In Western eyes, the interest of the Kremlin today is to avoid the war that at least outwardly seems to be in preparation. Most people therefore believe, even now, that the danger this year is not extreme. But the Kremlin is entirely capable of the grossest miscalculations of its own interests—if, for example, the rulers of Russia had just allowed two more years of Louis Johnson, the whole Western world would have been a plum rotten-ripe for the plucking. It is also the law of national survival that policy must be formed, not on hopeful guesses about enemy intentions, but on hard estimates of enemy capabilities. We shall ignore the new Soviet preparations at our peril.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

W M S G U Z X D S L, P Z L P Z K. P Z N S E W. P Z U S H B U Q S Q. V B L W X Z Q K B Z S. V B Z K G Z S Z Q V S L L Z G K M W M X R S L V S E W—L N G T W.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: THIS MODEST CHARM OF NOT TOO MUCH, PART SEEN, IMAGINED PART—WORDSWORTH.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to thank our neighbors, friends and relatives for their sympathy and helpfulness following the sudden loss of our beloved husband and father, George Shriver. We also wish to thank Rev. John B. Jones, those who loaned cars for the funeral, sent floral tributes, cards of sympathy and helped in any way to lighten our burden.

News Developments Bring Declines In Stock Prices

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP) — Diplomatic maneuverings in world capitals to end the Korean war and Washington efforts to speed economic controls unsettled the stock market today and brought on moderate-sized price declines.

At the same time a few individual issues enlivened the session with wide price swings both up and down.

Traders hesitated to enter the market with any forcefulness because of the uncertainty of the outcome of present economic and political negotiations and plans.

The volume of trading contracted to 1,990,000 shares, the first time in seven weeks that it has slipped below the two million mark.

Lower all around were motors, aircrafts, utilities, copper mining, air lines, and most of the chemicals and railroads.

Losses were from a few cents to more than $1 a share, but at the same time a number of gainers had similar sized advances.

Considerable attention was focused on the widely moving issues. American Cynamid closed 5¼ higher at 84⅝. Brokers said reports of the possibility of a stock split were circulating in Wall Street.

Douglas Aircraft, on the other hand, dropped 4½ at 102 reflecting disappointment after directors declared the regular quarterly dividend and an extra of $1.25, the same as was paid last Feb. 21.

Gulf Oil responded to dividend news with a forward push. It closed up 2¼ at 90½. Yesterday directors declared a 100 per cent stock dividend.

American Telephone became the ninth most active issue down at 1½ at 152 as a result of trading generated by admission to trading in the bond market on a "when issued" basis of the A. T. & T. new 3⅜ths convertible debentures and the start of trading of the conversion rights "when issued" on the stock exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 50 cents to $91.60. The industrial component of the average was off 50 cents, rails off 40 cents, and utilities declined 20 cents.

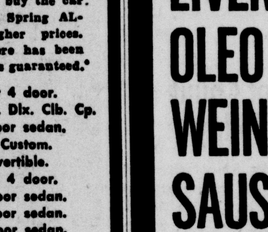
"The Authority on Authorities"

TWO SQUEEZES ON DEAL

SQUEEZE PLAYS are supposed to be possible on about one deal out of twenty, though they certainly don't get made that often, in fact hardly half that often. Though they are not necessarily very complex, the infrequency of their occurrence makes them seem to be very special plays. It is much rarer, however, that a deal comes along which presents the chance for two entirely different types of squeeze plays, with each of them getting made at different tables of a duplicate game.



(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♦	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♥	Pass
5 NT	Pass	6 ♦	Pass
6 NT

Norths who stopped at small slam on this deal were undoubtedly sound enough, since several unknown factors could have prevented a grand slam. But the taking of the thirteenth trick, for an extra at small slam, was surely in the cards for a fine operator. In fact, two entirely different squeezes were used to make the grand slam.

Where East led the spade 9 to the J, North won with the A, scored the two heart tops and then ran the clubs, which fortunately broke evenly. As the last was led, North also held the diamond 7 and the spade 10-7-2, with dummy retaining its four diamonds. West had discarded down to his four diamonds and the spade K. Tossing a diamond would have built the 10 for the final trick, so he threw off the spade. The spade 10 and three diamond tops completed the hand.

One East led the diamond 3. Refusing to finesse, North won with the A, also scored the K and Q, then ran clubs, followed by the heart K and A. As the latter was played, dummy also held the spade 8 and diamond 10, and North the spade A-10-7. West had the diamond J, to which he clung to guard against the 10 which he could see. To do that, he had to throw off his spade K, having previously discarded the Q and J. That enabled North to get the last two tricks with the spade A and 10.

How should South play for 3 No Trumps if West leads the heart 4, East playing the A?

City Officials To Seek More Tax Sources

Council To Hold Executive Session

The Mayor and Council will hold an executive session tonight to formulate plans on city finance legislation to be submitted to the Allegany County Delegation.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said W. Earle Cobey, city solicitor, and Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, will attend the meeting slated at 7:30 p.m. in the mayor's office.

Gibson pointed out yesterday that the city must either find additional sources of revenue or secure authority to raise the real estate tax rates here.

Efforts will be made, the mayor said, to secure sources of additional revenue for the city.

Cites Baltimore Sources

Baltimore City, he added, has the power to tax about 60 sources of revenue in order to meet operating expenses.

Last Friday, Mayor Post, Commissioner William H. Buchholtz and Gibson conferred with officials in Baltimore on sources of revenue there.

Mayor Post said it is hoped that a study will show some of those sources of taxation will be applicable to Cumberland.

He indicated the city may ask the Legislature to give Cumberland the right to tax some of the sources used in Baltimore.

Some Termed Valueless

In many cases, however, the cost of collection would make some types of taxing authority valueless.

Cumberland, Mayor Post said, might be interested in some of the following, which are important revenue in Baltimore:

Tax on tobacco, admission taxes, minor privilege permits, liquor tax, magistrates fines and dog licenses.

All efforts will be made, officials said, to avoid an increase in the tax rate on real estate.

Mayor Post indicated that the city may seek a conference with the County Delegation next week on tax matters.

Surplus Nearly Gone

Gibson emphasized that unless the city receives additional miscellaneous revenues, it must get authority to raise the tax rate.

During the 1950-51 fiscal year, the city had a surplus of $152,000 which originally came from state shared income.

Now, Gibson pointed out, expenses are absorbing the entire amount of money available in the present levy.

This means, he pointed out that the city must find new sources for about $152,000 or more just to continue operating expenses.

That amount is equivalent to about 25 cents on the tax rate. The 90 cents limitation placed on the tax rate here for operation is a handicap to the city's progress.

Increasing cost of operation of the city's facilities, prohibits the accumulation of any surplus funds.

Sewage Freezes On Highway

The Health Department reported yesterday that drastic steps will be taken soon to eliminate conditions such as are seen in the above photo. J. B. Dowling, State Health Department sanitarian, said what appears to be patches of cinders upon McMullen Highway at Fairgo is sewage which seeped from defective septic tanks and froze upon the highway. Officials said there are some 150 spots in the county where similar conditions exist.

State Income Tax Office At New Address

The State Income Tax returns aid office this year will be changed from the grand jury room of the Allegany County Court House to 9 Market Street this year, it was announced last night.

Edward V. Welsh, serving as field representative here for State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, will assist Cumberland taxpayers between March 1 and April 16 in filing State Income Tax returns for the year 1950.

His schedule calls for Walsh to be at other points in this area between February 5 and February 28 to assist taxpayers.

The schedule:

Oakland, Court House, February 5; Westernport, City Building, February 6 and 7; Barton, First National Bank Building, February 8; Lonaconing, Liberty Trust Company, February 9; Frostburg, Fidelity Savings Bank, February 13 and 14; Luke, Devon Club, February 15 to February 28.

Court Orders To Be Asked In Road Sewage Abatement

Court orders will be requested in the near future to compel property owners along a section of McMullen Highway to prevent sewage from leaking onto the highway, J. B. Dowling, State Health Department sanitarian, said yesterday.

He explained the action is being taken by the Health Department, in cooperation with the State Roads Commission, to alleviate an unsanitary condition on the road at Fairgo.

Court actions are now being made up, he said, and will be served within the next 10 days.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county and city health officer, said the condition at Fairgo is typical of about 150 such situations on state highways of the county.

Dowling said that under the court orders property owners would have to make improvements in septic tank installations. He said there is no one solution since each installation poses a separate problem.

In each case, inadequate or improperly installed septic tanks allow raw sewage to drain upon the highway, causing a serious health menace.

Fort Hill Music Groups Will Stage H.M.S. Pinafore

"We Sail the Ocean Blue" is becoming the theme of the Fort Hill A Cappella Choir and Glee Clubs as preparations get underway for the light opera, H. M. S. Pinafore, to be presented in the school auditorium, Thursday, February 15, at 8 p. m.

The setting for the well-known Gilbert and Sullivan classic is the good ship Pinafore. The plot centers around Josephine, the daughter of the Captain of the vessel, and her lover, Ralph Rackstraw, who is a seaman. Sir Joseph Porter, a dapper though elderly gentleman with an exalted opinion of himself, also attempts to win the hand of the captain's daughter. There also is the villain, Dick Deadeye, who complicates the plot.

The cast for the light opera, sponsored by the Choir and Glee Clubs consists of: Sir Joseph Porter, played by Bruce Ambrose; Captain Corcoran, Warfield Wilson; Ralph Rackstraw, Bill Burkhart; Dick Deadeye, Mike Smith; Boatswain's Mate Bill Bobstay, Eddie Smith and Carl Robertson (this role has been divided between the two boys.)

Also Bob Becket, Carpenter's Mate, Kermit Combs; Josephine, the captain's daughter, Adalee Brant; Cousin Hebe, Sir Joseph's first cousin, Shirley Brinkman; Little Buttercup, a Portsmouth bumboat woman, Betty Clapp, and a chorus of the First Lord of the Admiralty's sisters, his cousins, his aunts, sailors, marines, etc., made up of members of the A Capella Choir and Glee Clubs.

H. M. S. Pinafore will be directed by Miss Helen Smith and Miss Annetta Yates. Music will be provided by an orchestra comprised of members of the band and faculty.

Miss Yates, Miss Smith, and Miss Marilyn Ashbaugh selected the cast after a series of after-school tryouts.

This school-wide project is being backed by the music department, speech department, English department, vocational shop department, home economics department, and the physical education department.

Proceeds will be used to help pay for the organ which has been purchased by the school.

Election Is Delayed

Election of officers of the Allegany Trades Council Tuesday night was deferred due to lack of a quorum, officials said.

Dollar Day Sale Will Begin In City Tomorrow

Continues Through Saturday, Monday

It's "Dollar Days" time again—when Cumberland merchants "mark down" just about everything available and pass the values along to their customers.

Just when is it? Friday, Saturday and Monday.

For some 25 years local merchants have been cooperating to sponsor "Dollar Days" sales, Mercantile Bureau officials recalled last night.

They added that each sale has proved beter than the one preceding it and the values have been better.

Participating merchants, members of the Mercantile Bureau, have been getting ready for the past few weeks to offer thousands of dollars worth of choice merchandise at lower prices as a "thank you" for past patronage, bureau officials pointed out.

Last July, during the last "Dollar Days" sale, some patrons were disappointed when they found stocks depleted after they delayed shopping. To avoid that happening again, merchants are recommending that the buying public shop early this time.

In past years, "Dollar Days" have been held on successive days, but on this occasion merchants are trying something new by conducting the sales over a weekend and into a new week.

They believe this plan will be more satisfactory for two reasons: First, employes will not be inconvenienced and, second, most merchants concerned keep their stores open until 9 p. m. Mondays so that working people will have an opportunity to shop.

Much of the stock offered during the three-days is especially-selected and added emphasis is being placed on the event because Easter is just eight weeks away, it is claimed.

Many articles, clothing in particular, may be purchased during the sale at lower prices than will be found nearer the holiday, merchants said.

In urging that patrons take advantage of the sale, merchants pointed out that increasing wholesale prices may soon make it impossible to offer articles at such low cost for some time.

However, one said, merchants will continue to bring these bargain events to the public at as great a saving as possible.

Bargains offered will be well advertised and participating merchants will exhibit "Dollar Days" signs in their store windows.

Phone Service Back To Normal

All but 70 of the 1,200 telephone lines which were thrown out of service when an underground cable on North Centre Street was cut Tuesday night, had been repaired last night.

A company spokesman said all of the lines were slated to be back in service before morning.

Some 1,600 phones were knocked out when water seeping into the cable caused a short circuit after it had been damaged by workmen.

The lines being repaired last night were those which were severed and extensive testing was necessary before the lines, providing service for about 200 telephones, could be spliced.

Virtually normal service was restored by noon yesterday.

Six Men Enlist In Regular Army Here

Six area men have enlisted in the Regular Army unassigned and one in the U. S. Air Force at the local Army recruiting station in the Post Office Building.

Enlisting for three years were John A. Sullivan, 19, 449 Henderson Ave.; Robert A. Milburn, 19, 435 Chestnut Street; Walter L. Foy, 18, Mt. Savage; Roland G. Sowers, 17, Ridgeley, W. Va.; James R. Rowe, Ridgeley; and Wayne E. Ruble, Wiley Ford, W. Va.; Sullivan and Milburn have been sent to Martinsburg, W. Va. The others have gone to Fort George G. Meade for basic training.

Robert J. Miller, RFD No. 2, city, enlisted for three years in the U. S. Air Force and will be sent to Bolling Field Air Base, Washington, D. C. He has three years and five months previous service.

TWUA Ballot Count Will Begin Today

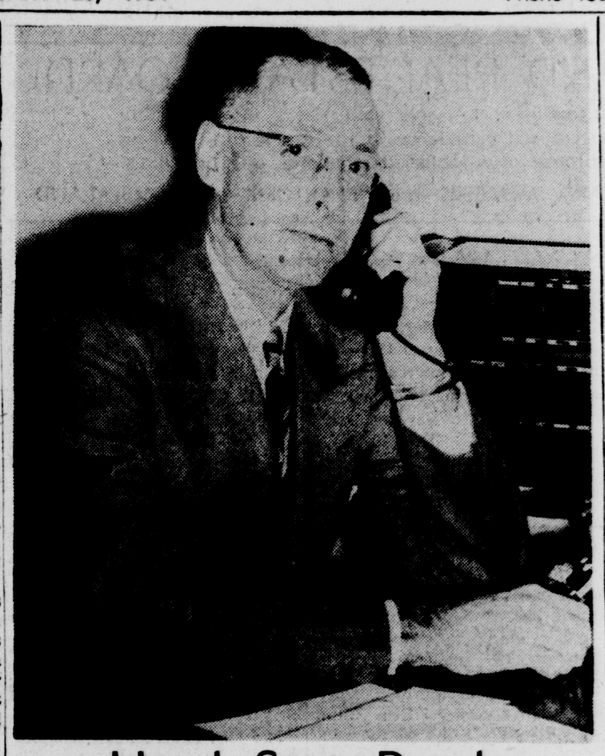
The Honest Ballot Association will begin tallying results in the annual election of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), which ended last night.

George Abrams, head of the ballot team, said the election has been a spirited one. He added there is a distinct possibility of a recount, due to the presence of a number of strong contenders in some posts.

Warning Issued On Milk Bottles

The Health Department yesterday issued a warning to raw milk distributors in Allegany County against using registered containers of other dairies.

J. Dowling, State Health Department sanitarian, said it is illegal to use the bottles or cans belonging to another dairy.



Heads State Roads

Russell H. McCain, of Frederick, last night was appointed chairman of the State Roads Commission by Governor McKeldin. This picture shows McCain in his office. The Frederick man, a 51-year-old native of Pittsburgh, Pa., has been a member of the State Roads Commission since 1945, when he was named by former Governor Herbert R. O'Conor. The governor also named Avery W. Hall, Salisbury, to the commission.

Governor Appoints Russell McCain State Roads Commission Chairman

Avery Hall Named As Shore Member

Governor McKeldin last night appointed Russell H. McCain of Frederick as chairman of the State Roads Commission.

The Governor also named Avery W. Hall, Salisbury business executive, to the three-member commission which supervises state highway and bridge construction and repair.

Both are Republicans. McCain succeeds Joseph M. George as chairman, and Hall's appointment removed George from the commission entirely. Both are from the Eastern Shore, which is entitled to only one position.

McKeldin had made no secret of his desire to elevate McCain and obtain the services of Hall.

He has not yet selected a Democrat. One roads post must be assigned the party opposite the Governor.

Leonard E. Kolmer is now the third member of the commission. As a Democrat and resident of Baltimore, he would be eligible to continue in office. Administration sources indicated, however, that McKeldin is searching for a replacement.

The new commission has McKeldin's advice before it is completely formed.

The Governor has called for retrenchment in the program labeled with costs up to $800,000,000 in discussions the last few years. He also has criticized the policy of constructing highways without access roads.

McCain, 51, is a native of Pittsburgh. He went to work for the Frederick Iron and Steel Co. after graduating from Washington and Jefferson College.

He was sales manager of the firm's pump division when former Governor O'Conor appointed him to the Roads Commission in 1945.

From 1938 to 1945 he was chairman of the Republican Central Committee for Frederick County. He served two terms on the Frederick City Board of Aldermen and was president until he accepted the roads post.

Mrs. McCain, the former Elizabeth Harner Apple, is a daughter of Dr. Joseph H. Apple, founder and first president of Hood College.

Hall also is 51. He was born in Whaleysville.

In 1928 he established an insurance business at Salisbury and since then has served as president of the Maryland Association of Insurance Agents.

Hall is president of Victor Lynn Lines, a transportation firm, and a director of the County Trust Company of Maryland, the Eastern Shore Public Service Companies of Maryland and Virginia and John H. Dulany and Son, Fruitland packers of frozen and canned goods.

He is secretary and treasurer of radio stations in Salisbury (WBOC) and Cambridge (WCEM). Since 1935 he has been a member of the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College. He is a director of Peninsula General Hospital at Salisbury and Past President of the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce and Wicomico Childrens' Home.

Zoning Board Denies Appeal On Gas Station

Cite Ordinance On Residential B Area

The Board of Zoning Appeals last night disapproved an appeal of L. L. Wilkinson, 109 Valley Street, for construction of a service station at the southwest corner of Paca and Lee Streets.

In denying the appeal, the board said the action was taken because the site is located in a Residential B district.

A spokesman said Wilkinson has the right to appeal the decision in Circuit Court within 30 days.

The City Engineer's office on December 2, 1950, denied an occupancy permit for the service station, but approved the building plans.

The project would include a one-story service station building 80 by 30 feet, with concrete block walls and tile roof with hard surfaced driveways.

Wilkinson, on December 21, filed the appeal on the action.

The Board said the ordinance allows no exception which would give it power to grant such a permit in a Residential B district.

School Locker Bid Approved

A contract for the purchase of lockers for the new Mt. Savage High School at a total cost of $17,141.25 was approved at a special meeting of the Allegany County Board of Education.

School Superintendent Charles L. Kopp said the successful bidder is The Marquis Company, 128 Bedford Street, which distributes lockers made by the Lyon Medal Products Company. The school will receive 945 corridor lockers and 105 gymnasium lockers.

Delivery of th lockers is uncertain although the company hopes to have them in about 120 days, the school superintendent reported. Completion of the new school by the beginning of the 1951-52 school year is the goal of school officials.

Only one other bid on the lockers was submitted to the school board, according to Kopp. This was from the Berger Manufacturing Division, Canton, Ohio. The superintendent said that this was only a partial bid and did not include all of the desired lockers.

Jury Verdicts Total $40,000 In Hagerstown

Oakland Couple Awarded Large Sums

Verdicts totaling $40,000 in favor of an Oakland couple were returned yesterday afternoon in Washington County Circuit Court, Hagerstown, as a jury wound up a three-day trial there.

After three hours of deliberations the jury returned a verdict of $35,000 for Mrs. Ruth Wright, Oakland, who lost a leg in an unusual accident in Oakland in October, 1948. The jury also returned a verdict of $5,000 for her husband, Leslie Wright, for loss of her services.

Defendants in the suit were Howard Tasker, an Oakland garage mechanic, and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. It was testified that a B&O train struck an automobile which Tasker was driving at the Oakland crossing. The automobile, in turn, was forced against Mrs. Wright, injuring her as she stood at the crossing waiting for the train to pass.

The suits, originally filed in Garrett County Circuit Court, sought $100,000 for Mrs. Wright and $20,000 for her husband. They were transferred to the Hagerstown court later.

Originally, also, a third defendant was named in the suit. He was Ralph Pritts, operator of Pritts' Garage, in Oakland. It was contended the vehicle which Tasker was driving bore dealers' tags owned by Pritts and consequently Tasker was acting as Pritts' agent. The suit was dismissed some time ago insofar as Pritts was concerned.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs were Walter Dawson and Neil Fraley, both of Oakland; John Wagaman, Hagerstown, and Clyde Bailey, Pittsburgh, Pa. Nine lawyers represented the defendants.

Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish and Associate Judge George Henderson presided at the trial which began Monday morning.

Equity Case Filed

Society Hears Talk On Control Of Instruments

Plan Joint Meeting With Engineers Soon

About 20 members of the Cumberland section of the Instrument Society of America attended a group meeting Tuesday night at the Algonquin Hotel to hear John S. Leslie, president of the Leslie Company, Lyndhurst, N. J., describe the Leslie line of control valves and automatic regulators.

Officials of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Luke, and Celanese Corporation of America, belong to the local organization which has the objective to advance the arts and sciences connected with theory, design, manufacture and use of instruments in various sciences and technologies.

Leslie was graduated from Cornell University with a mechanical engineer degree and from a post-graduate course in business administration at Babson Institute. He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, National Steam Specialty Club, Naval Engineers and Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, and has been associated with the Leslie Company since 1936.

Leslie's talk covered a practical approach to the regulation and control which is of vital interest to instrument operation for power and maintenance engineers. The discussion included the use of right instruments and regulators, methods to select the best instrument or regulator and how the proper selection brings benefits and allays cost problems.

The group also made plans to hold a joint meeting with the Society of American Engineers in February.

The next meeting of the local organization will be held February 9. Leopold Van Blerkom, vice president of the New York section of the Instrument Society of America and an official with Weston Electric, will be the guest speaker at the affair.

Long Awaits Reply From Jury Foreman

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long reported last night he had not yet received a formal report from Kenneth R. Malcolm, Westernport, on a letter calling attention to a recent wave of robberies and bookmaking operations in this city.

Malcolm, who said Tuesday night he had dispatched the reply, observed that any recall of the grand jury would have to come from the court as he has no recess authority.

Commissioner Long declined to comment further on the matter.

Chamber Warns Citizens On Siding And Roofing Work

The return of near spring weather to Cumberland yesterday prompted the Chamber of Commerce to issue a warning against the flood of roofing and siding contractors bound to invade the area in the next few months.

Harold W. Smith, manager of the Chamber, said that before a contract for such work is given to an unknown firm, home owners should at least secure a competitive bid from a local firm.

Many past complaints, on counts of price and workmanship, led to the warning.

Officials recalled the case of a firm from outside the area which secured a contract for such work, then sublet it to a local firm for 60 per cent of the contract price.

Generally speaking, the Chamber said, local firms charge less for roofing and siding jobs, due to the necessity of competitive bidding.

Close supervision of work and the necessity of guaranteeing their work results in adequate standards of workmanship by local firms, the Chamber said.

In some cases, officials said, outside firms have sub-let contracts to incompetent workers.

The only rule, the Chamber said, is to investigate carefully before signing contracts with unknown firms.

As a rule, such contracts are so carefully drawn that a property owner has no recourse if he changes his mind after he signs.

CHINESE RED PULLBACK INDICATED

U. S. Accuses Peiping Of 'Blackmail'

Arab-Asian Bloc Asks Peace Talks

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 24 (AP)—U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin today accused the Chinese Communists of "blackmail" and bad faith in trying to gain their objectives in Korea and the Far East. He also said Red China and Russia have taken part in aggression in Korea.

The American representative spoke to the 60-nation Political Committee of the U. N. Assembly as 12 Asian and Arab countries formally demanded an immediate seven-nation conference to seek a settlement of the Chinese-Korean problem without waiting for a cease-fire.

His emphatic statement was regarded in U. N. circles as a flat rejection of the latest Arab-Asian move and as an American answer to Prime Minister Nehru of India, who criticized in a New Delhi broadcast today an American resolution calling for the Political Committee to find a verdict of aggression against Communist China.

Amounts To Ultimatum

Austin was speaking to the committee in the debate on a reply from Peiping to the last chance cease-fire appeal made by the Political Committee on Jan. 13. The Red Chinese came back with a renewed demand for admission to the U. N., a seven-nation conference to agree on a cease-fire and to negotiate all issues of the Far East, including Formosa. Peiping also demanded the U. S. get out of Formosa and the U. N. forces withdraw from Korea.

The U. S. delegate said the Red Chinese had given the U. N. what amounted to an ultimatum to admit them to the U. N. He replied, for the U. S., that admission of any country is a matter for a judgment of all U. N. members and not for any seven-nation conference. He said one of the factors to be considered was the fact that soldiers of Red China are shedding the blood of many countries seated at the committee table and said:

"You can't shoot your way into the United Nations."

Nehru Calls For Conference

Of the other issues, Austin said:

"The question of Formosa, the Chinese representation, and of other Far Eastern problems have been or can be put on the agenda of the United Nations and dealt with by orderly United Nations processes. Various members of the United Nations may take differing views on the question of Chinese representation and perhaps also on the future of Formosa. But they cannot possibly disagree with my government's view that these problems must be solved in the United Nations in accordance with the Charter and the procedures provided for therein and not by blackmail."

Prime Minister Nehru, in his broadcast, called for a conference of the major powers, including Red China, to discuss world issues. He said the time has come to talk over the problems instead of trying to handle them at a great distance. He said he was convinced that the Red Chinese reply showed a desire for a peaceful settlement.

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Dutch cabinet resigned today. It was a four-party coalition which critics accused of conceding too much to Indonesia and too little to Dutch defense efforts.

Yank Casualties In Korean Strife Mount To 46,201

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP) — Announced American casualties in the Korean war mounted today to 46,201, an increase of 1,064 over last week's total. This compared with 2,424 new casualties announced last week, and 4,974 during one seven-day period last September.

The new cumulative total announced today by the Defense Department covered losses where next of kin had been notified through Jan. 19. The figures showed:

Dead, 7,499; wounded, non-fatally, 29,471, and missing, 9,231.

The dead included 6,693 killed in action, 780 who died of wounds, and 26 originally listed as missing but now determined to be dead.

Vivien Kellems, Withholding Tax Foe, Wins Suit

Entitled To Money Seized In Penalties

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 24 (AP) —A federal jury decided today that Vivien Kellems had not acted "willfully" in refusing to withhold income taxes from her employes' pay envelopes. It returned a verdict entitling her to recovery of most of the money seized by the government as penalties for defying the law.

Miss Kellems, long an opponent of the withholding tax, was ecstatic at the verdict. "It's wonderful," she told newsmen and attorneys. "I'm delighted."

U. S. Attorneys Surprised

Government attorneys, obviously surprised, said they probably would appeal. As a first step, said Fred Neuland, special assistant to the Attorney General who defended the government, a motion to set aside the verdict already had been prepared.

"All this verdict did," said Neuland as he left for Washington, "is to decide Miss Kellems was entitled to get her money back and it does not in any way affect the constitutionality of the act."

Miss Kellems, who filed the civil action here after the government ignored her requests for indictment to raise a test case, has long contended that the withholding tax law is unconstitutional. Judge Carroll C. Hincks eliminated that issue from the case at an early stage, however, by holding the act constitutional. All he left for the jury was whether she acted "wilfully" in violating it.

Asked Return Of $7,819

At issue was the demand of the Stonington factory owner and her brother, associated with her in the business, for return of $7,819 assessed against her in penalties for taxes she failed to withhold in the three final quarters of 1948.

She sued Internal Revenue Collector John J. Fitzpatrick for $6,133.80 for penalties assessed during his tenure, and it was this portion of the case decided by today's verdict.

Man, 92, Gets Social Security Number

APPLETON, Wis., Jan. 24 (AP)—Miles Meidam, 92 years old, finally has a Social Security number but will have to work another 16 months to collect federal old age benefits.

His greenhouse job—something he's been working at since 1872—was classified as agricultural employment where workers weren't covered by Social Security until the first of this year. Now he must work six quarters to qualify for retirement.

Preliminary Big 4 Meeting Is Suggested

Paris Conference Proposed By West

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP) — The western Big Three proposed tonight that Russia meet with them in a preliminary session in Paris as a step toward a Big Four foreign ministers conference to ease global tension.

The United States, Britain and France made the suggestion in notes to Moscow. They said they stand ready to make a major attempt to improve East-West relations.

But they again turned thumbs down on any idea of limiting the Big Four ministers' conference to a discussion of German rearmament. They want all major causes of East-West friction explored.

New Cycle In Discussion

They called on Moscow to say whether Russia agrees to take up "the principal problems whose solution would permit a real and lasting improvement" in relations between the Soviet Union and the West.

"If the Soviet government does agree," the western nations said, they are ready to set a date for the preliminary conference to decide just what issues should be considered. Paris was suggested as the site for the preliminary meeting.

The identical notes opened a new cycle in nearly three months of discussion over the proposal advanced by Russia for another foreign ministers' conference.

They were in reply to the Soviet's December 30 note declaring Russia's willingness to take up preliminaries but insisting that the question of German rearmament be the "first and foremost business."

Soviet Charges Rejected

The western powers took no stand on the importance to be given this issue but they declared that "the tension which exists in the world today does not arise from the German problem."

A discussion limited to the questions proposed by the Soviet government would therefore be inadequate and unreal, Moscow was told.

The three powers also rejected as "completely without foundation" Soviet charges made during the exchange that the present moves toward bringing Western Germany into the North Atlantic defense lineup are aimed aggressively at Soviet Russia.

Mine Fire Traps 12 Temporarily

SULLIVAN, Ind., Jan. 24 (AP)—At least a dozen miners were trapped temporarily and then escaped past an underground fire in the Pandora coal mine near Dugger late tonight, a mine spokesman reported.

The mine official said 12 to 14 men had "reached fresh air" and began making their way past a conveyor belt fire.

The belt fire was blamed on friction, but was brought under control within two hours.

Home-Made Electric Chair Used By Suicide

SHREWSBURY, England, Jan. 24 (AP)—Witnesses at an inquest testified today that John Hodges, 66, killed himself in a home-made electric chair.

Policemen who entered the house found a note saying "careful, switch off the current." Hodges was dead in a chair with electric wires attached to his right wrist and left leg. A thread around his finger was connected to a power switch.

Price 'Freeze' Order May Be Issued Today

One Last Kiss

Sgt. Edward Ratigan breaks ranks for one more kiss from his wife as his son, Eddie, Jr., 3½, looks on. The sergeant was marching to the Birmingham, Ala., railroad station where his regiment, called into federal service as part of the Dixie Division, was leaving for camp.

Action To Curb Inflation Might Include Rollback

Wage Ceiling Policy May Follow Swiftly

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—A general price "freeze," including meat and some other foods, was imminent today as the government prepared to crack down on runaway war-boom inflation.

On Capitol Hill, Price Director Michael V. DiSalle said he has recommended a general freeze and rollback on prices.

DiSalle said the order is now on the desk of Eric Johnston, who took the oath today as the nation's economic stabilization chief.

Asked by newsmen if there was a chance that the order might be issued by tomorrow night, DiSalle replied:

"Yes, there's a chance."

The price director said the general freeze may last only a short time, giving way "very soon" to a different kind of price control, restricting a seller's margin rather than freezing prices as they are.

Use Of Nickel Curbed

Meanwhile, in another mobilization move, the government banned the use of nickel in automobile trim and in nearly 400 other civilian products.

Already in short supply, nickel has many important defense uses, notably including its use to make jet aircraft engines resistant to great heat and corrosion.

The order is effective March 1 on nickel plating and April 1 on nickel used in such stainless steel products as auto grills, hubcaps, etc.

Key officials said the price control action—possibly accompanied by a rollback to Jan. 2 levels—may come within 24 hours to 48 hours.

They indicated that a flexible policy on wage ceilings, allowing for some upward adjustment, will follow swiftly.

DiSalle told newsmen his proposed order contains no specific date to which prices would be rolled back. But he said:

"There will be some rollback."

Truman Wants Stronger Controls

He said the order, if approved, will temporarily freeze all prices not exempted by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

The law exempts prices on all farm products selling below parity or below pre-Korean war levels. Parity is a sliding scale designed to keep farm prices attuned to the prices of things farmers must buy.

Only about seven farm products are now above parity, but they include beef and other items in the cost of living.

From the White House to Capitol Hill, all signs pointed to a program of sweeping economic controls reminiscent of the old OPA days of World War II.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the House Banking Committee told newsmen after a White House visit that President Truman will ask Congress shortly for legislation to strengthen the whole price machinery and "provide effective control of food prices."

"Ike" To Report To Legislators Next Thursday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will tell Congress in person next Thursday about the progress and prospects of the defense of Europe against the Communist threat. He may report to the people by radio the next day.

The plan was announced in the House today by Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass). At the same time national defense headquarters said the General, now completing a tour of his Europe-wide command as chief of Atlantic pact forces, will arrive back in this country Saturday.

The developments came on the heels of a spot check by the Associated Press which showed that the administration can feel sure the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees will approve a resolution favoring the dispatch of American troops to Europe.

Out of the committees' combined membership of 26, reporters reached 21. As of today, 14 favored the proposal and none opposed publicly.

French Police Prevent Anti-Ike Demonstration

PARIS, Jan. 24 (AP) — The French government mobilized 14,500 troops and police in the Paris region tonight and smashed a Communist anti-Eisenhower demonstration before it could even get started.

No Communist got near Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters at the Hotel Astoria and there was no violence. Police combed the area for blocks around for would-be demonstrators and arrested 2,500 persons.

Early in the day police swooped down on the Communist daily, L'Humanite (circulation 225,000), and the pro-Communist newspaper Liberation (circulation 100,000), and seized most of today's editions. The newspapers had defied a government ban against the demonstration and urged Communists to gather and shout "go home" at Eisenhower.

MacArthur Sends Girl's Money Back

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 24 (AP) — Eight-year-old Sandra (Sandy) Wise sent a quarter and this letter to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo:

"Dear Mr. MacArthur: I am sending this 25 cents to you and your soldiers for helping the poor over in Korea. I am eight years old and wondered if you wanted me to save my allowance. I am willing to do that favor for you. Yours truly, Sandy Wise."

This week, the little girl got her quarter back. With it was a letter from MacArthur, saying:

"Dear Sandy: Thanks ever so much, but I do not believe it necessary to send your allowances. My best to you. Douglas MacArthur."

Remington Ends His Testimony

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—William W. Remington said today he had meetings with Jacob Golos and Elizabeth Bentley, unaware that they were Soviet agents, but insisted he never gave them World War Two military secrets.

The former War Production Board official is being tried in federal court on a charge of perjury for telling a federal grand jury he never was a Communist.

Remington concluded three days of testimony under direct examination with a blanket denial of any participation whatsoever in Communism or espionage. Cross-examination began immediately.

Remington's former wife had testified he was a Communist. Miss Bentley, admitted former Soviet spy courier, said he gave her information to be passed on to Golos, Soviet spy ring leader.

Hard Coal Pact Near

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24 (AP) — John L. Lewis and the anthracite operators are 20 cents away from signing a new contract for the nation's 78,000 anthracite miners, most of whom work in Eastern Pennsylvania.

HIS GOLD SEIZED—Sol Bienstock (above), 31, Brooklyn, N. Y., will be arraigned today at Boston on charges of violating the Gold Reserve Act and the Gold Export Act. Customs inspectors seized 600 ounces of gold valued at $21,000 from Bienstock's luggage as he was about to board a plane for Spain and Portugal. Inspector Thomas O'Brien said thin strips of gold were concealed in false bottoms of two suitcases, an overnight bag and inside the lining of Bienstock's vest. (AP Wirephoto)

NEA Spokesman Raps Plan To Cut Draft Age To 18

Would Force Many Colleges To Close

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP) — The Defense Department's proposal to draft 18-year-old boys for 27 months military service was criticized sharply today by a spokesman for the National Education Association.

He told a Senate Preparedness subcommittee that the plan if carried into effect would force many colleges and universities to close their doors and "strike at the very heart of our system of education."

The witness, Ralph W. McDonald, was outspoken in his opposition to the plan personally sponsored by Secretary of Defense Marshall to cut the draft age from 19 to 18, extend the period of service from 21 to 27 months, and install as soon as possible a permanent system of universal military service and training (UMST).

McDonald claimed to speak for the "vast majority" of college, university and other school teachers and administrators as a result of a nationwide poll. He called the Defense Department's UMST bill "perhaps the most profound and revolutionary proposal respecting higher education in the United States that has been presented since the birth of the nation."

As an alternative to the proposed 18-year-old draft, the NEA witness proposed that the mental and physical standards for acceptance into the armed forces be lowered. He said it is "ridiculous" to reject for physical deficiency a youth who manages to play varsity football.

The senators have received endorsements of the bill from the heads of five colleges, but McDonald insisted they did not speak for the majority of educators.

Mrs. Canoles Renamed Demo Committeewoman

BALTIMORE, Jan. 24 (AP) — Mrs. M. Alice Canoles, Baltimore, was reappointed Democratic national committeewoman for Maryland today by Robert B. Ennis, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Mrs. Canoles served in the capacity from 1944 until 1948, when she was replaced by Mrs. John L. Whitehurst. Mrs. Canoles in turn succeeds Mrs. Whitehurst, who resigned unexpectedly earlier this month.

U. S. Britain Standardize Flattop Landing Tactics

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP) — The United States and British Navy air arms have achieved "complete standardization" in the techniques of landing on their aircraft carriers.

James Callaghan, parliamentary secretary to the Admiralty, told the House of Commons today that all possible steps are being taken as well to standardize new antiaircraft gunnery equipment.

Allied Patrols Find Only Few Enemy Troops

One Unit Within 33 Miles Of 38th

TOKYO, Thursday, Jan. 25 (AP)—U. S. intelligence officers said today the Chinese Communists may have made a large scale withdrawal in Western Korea.

In Central Korea, bold Allied armored patrols thrust 38 miles north of Chungju, a key United Nations defense position, without contacting any large enemy elements.

Field dispatches from both the west and central sectors said there was no enemy contact last night except a minor patrol clash near Yoju, 40 miles southeast of Seoul.

AP Correspondent Jim Becker reported today from the western sector below Seoul:

"The apparent absence of Communist troops in force south of the Han River has led some intelligence officers to conclude there may have been a large scale withdrawal to the north."

Different Idea

But one cautious officer had another idea about the lack of Reds:

"They may have their own cease-fire in effect. They may be avoiding contact during United Nations negotiations to save themselves some men. They've been hurt when we hit them head on and they may feel that they should not risk losing men while there is the possibility of a cease-fire order from the U.N."

The bold thrust 38 miles north of Chungju carried an Allied force through the oft-entered transport hub of Wonju, then 12 miles north to within 33 miles of the 38th parallel.

On the patrols' southeast flank, other Allied troops seized the mountain road hub prize of Yongwol.

A field dispatch said the patrol which knifed toward the parallel rolled 10 miles north from Wonju to Hoengsong. It then pushed on about two miles north. Hoengsong, 55 miles due east of Seoul, is 35 miles south of parallel 38.

Allies Recapture Yongwol

The unit of 100 men and four tanks had routed two small Red pockets on the way to Hoengsong but it found the town itself empty of Communist troops. The unit pulled back at nightfall to better defense positions.

It was the northernmost stab by the Allies since Seoul was abandoned to the Communists Jan. 4.

Forty miles to the southeast of Hoengsong, another patrol recaptured the tungsten mining town of Yongwol, which has changed hands five times in the past two weeks.

The troops smashed into Yongwol after powering across the ice-covered Han River. A 20-plane bombing attack and a roaring artillery barrage had driven Red troops from the town.

An estimated 20,000 Reds, including 500 rifle-carrying women, were believed to have infiltrated behind Allied lines on the eastern front. Some of these women soldiers were reported to have fired on Allied troops. There were few details, however.

Negro Legislator Shelves Campaign

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Rep. Powell (D-NY) told the House today he is laying aside his campaign against racial segregation in the armed services for the duration of the emergency.

Powell, negro minister, said members of his race put their country first, and he feels this is not the time to make segregation an issue.

"I don't propose to make any more appeals for anti-segregation amendments," he said. "Now is the time to win the war."

But when peace returns, Powell said, he will take up his fight.

Cugie's Wife Sticks To Her Guns, Says Singer "In Raw"

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24 (AP)—Lorraine Allen, current wife of Xavier Cugat, the rhumba bandsman, said today she found his new love "naked as a jaybird" when she walked into their Chicago hotel room.

In Newark, N. J., 19-year-old Singer Abbe Lane had a different version. She said she was in the bathroom changing clothes early yesterday, preparing to go to a horror movie with the 51-year-old Cugat. She heard a commotion and opened the door, she said, but:

"I held my sequin dress in front of me. One of the men (Mrs. Cugat was accompanied by detectives) dragged me from the bathroom but I was covered all the time."

Retorted Mrs. Cugat, 32, and also beautiful, as she flew in from Chicago:

"Miss Lane was as naked as a jaybird in her nest. We were startled and shocked, and Miss Lane was completely immobilized. But after a time she picked up a sequin dress and held it in front of her. We didn't drag her out of the bathroom, as she and Cugie claim.

"One of the men in my party happened to have a camera with him.

"If any dispute arises, I have very definite photographic evidence to back up my statement."

Mrs. Cugat said she wanted to talk to her husband about their marital troubles. She sued him for divorce in California, later amended it to separate maintenance, and now is getting $2,000 a month pending trial.

Annual Reassessment Opposed; Tax Repeal Bill Planned

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 24 (AP)—Senate opposition swelled today to a proposal annual reassessment of all Maryland property.

Five members of the powerful Finance Committee declared taxpayers in their home counties were aroused at the plan recommended by a special survey commission.

As they forecast a sharp legislative attack on the proposal, two senators announced they would introduce quickly a bill to repeal the state property tax outright.

Majority Leader Goldstein (D-Calvert) repeated his wish to eliminate the tax, and Sen. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel) said he would sponsor a repealer jointly with Goldstein.

Their measure would provide for payment of state bonds with excess revenues from other sources. An emergency clause would permit the Board of Public Works to reinstate the real estate levy if general funds run short.

One statement of taxpayer opposition to annual reassessments came from Sen. Sybert (D-Howard) shortly after he was named chairman of a subcommittee to study the proposal.

Yearly valuations have been suggested by the Case commission, appointed a year ago to survey Maryland tax laws and find cures for inequities.

Headed by Attorney Richard W. Case, the commission has advocated scrapping the rotational system of assessments adopted in 1944. This splits each county and Baltimore into five districts, only one of which is assessed each year.

Goldstein, chairman of the full committee, appointed Minority Leader Kimble (R-Allegany), Sen. Ramsburg (R-Frederick), Jewell (D-Kent) and Barton (D-Balto 2nd) to serve with Sybert on the assessments group.

The subcommittee will attend a meeting of county commissioners called for tomorrow to draft a platform on assessments.

The Finance Committee tabled a motion by Barton to reduce from five to two per cent the tax on unearned income up to $3,500. The commission suggested a ceiling of $500 for the cut rate. Kimble asserted any heavy loss in revenue might prevent Gov. McKeldin from presenting a balanced budget.

Baltimore Transit Strike Postponed For One Week

BALTIMORE, Jan. 24 (AP)—Union officials today called off tomorrow's transit strike for one week to allow the Baltimore Transit Company time to reconsider the operators' demands.

The AFL union is asking a seven-cent-an-hour increase, retroactive to Jan. 8, and another seven-cent boost July 9.

The company has offered a five-cent hike and no further increase after six months.

The basic wage scale now is $1.55.

The postponement of the walkout, set for 4 a. m., was announced by Clayton Perry, union head, at 4:30 p. m. after a two-hour session with Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro.

"Our union is anxious now, as it has been since negotiations began," Perry said, "to save the people of Baltimore the inconvenience and expense of a transit strike. Therefore, we are now making a sacrifice to accomplish this."

The company made no statement immediately.

Mayor D'Alesandro, who was trying to mediate a settlement until 2:30 a. m. today, beamed happily. The meeting was held at his home.

The contract expired Jan. 8. Company and union representatives have been in almost continuous session for the past two days trying to reach an agreement.

Free GI Insurance OK'd

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—The House voted 390 to 0 today to provide $10,000 of free life insurance for all servicemen while on active duty.

The new program would be retroactive to last June 27, date of the Korean outbreak, and would apply to all servicemen in the future.

Military Furlough Rail Fares Slashed

CHICAGO, Jan. 24 (AP)—Military personnel in uniform can ride on all railroads at reduced rates from January 26 through March 31, it was announced today.

E. B. Padrick, chairman of the Transcontinental Passenger Association, said the low round-trip military furlough fares are being tried on an experimental basis due to the growing number of military personnel.

Fares, good in coaches only, will be at the rate of 2.025 cents a mile. In certain territories, they will be less.

New Navy Jet Engine Rated Most Powerful

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—The Navy announced today a new jet engine described by its builder as the world's most powerful now qualified for production.

The engine is the Westinghouse J-40, big brother of the J-34 which has been used in several Air Force and Navy aircraft types.

W. B. Anderson, manager of the Westinghouse Aviation Gas Turbine Division at Philadelphia, said in a statement "the J-40 packs more potential speed into less space than any previous rotating engine ever built."

Pullen Urges More Pay For Teachers

ANNAPOLIS, Md., 24 (AP)—State schools will "be on the road to a catastrophic situation" by the end of the year unless teachers are soon given more pay, Superintendent Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., said today.

"We cannot afford to delay," the school official told a combined meeting of the Senate and House Education Committees.

He said teachers already are beginning to drift away to better paying jobs in industry and "unless something is done immediately we'll be back to the war situation." Then, he recalled classes were overloaded, two-shift schedules were established and the teacher turnover was tremendous.

Pullen came before the committee to present the problem of teachers and need for more buildings. He said he had no specific recommendations on either, but will supply them to legislators later.

TWUA Sues Firm For Hiking Wages

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24 (AP) — The Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) today sued a company for raising the wages of some employes.

The union contended the increase violated its contract with the J. Sullivan & Sons Manufacturing Co., makers of tapes and bindings, and asked the U. S. District Court for injunctive relief.

A company spokesman said merit increases were given in accordance with the contract.

Coogan Can't Touch Liquor For One Year

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Jan. 24 (AP)—Jackie Coogan, the kid of the silent movies, must not touch liquor for one year under terms of probation imposed today.

Police Judge Charles Griffin also ruled that the balding Coogan, now 36, can drive his car only on business for the next 90 days.

A 90-day jail sentence was suspended after Coogan pleaded guilty to misdemeanor drunk driving charges. He also had to pay a $150 fine.

Assembly Demos Given Reminder

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 24 (AP) — Attorney General Hall Hammond said today that Democrats in the Legislature are morally bound to vote for calling of a convention to write a new constitution for Maryland.

Hammond, voluntarily writing as a top Democrat himself, said in a letter to Sen. Goldstein, leader of the majority Democratic party:

1—The Democratic campaign platform for last year's election advocated the calling of a convention to rewrite the state's 84-year-old, much amended constitution, and

2—The electorate voted November 7 for a convention by a margin of nearly 4-to-1. The result of the referendum was 200,439 in favor of a convention call to 56,998 against.

The letter didn't budge Sen. Goldstein of Calvert County from his position as leading opponent of the pending bill.

"Glass Menagerie" Is Next Barter Theatre Production

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce will continue its series of Barter Theater productions with the presentation of Tennessee Williams "The Glass Menagerie" February 24 at Allegany High School auditorium. Curtain time is 8:15 p. m.

The cast, headed by Rex Partington, portrays the tenaciousness and imperishment of Americans during the depression. It is told in retrospect by the son, Tom, played by Partington, who is the sole support of his family after the father has abandoned them.

"The Glass Menagerie" won the Dramatic Critics prize in 1944-45 and has enjoyed a steady stream of success since. Williams' lyrical gift and sensitive characterization makes the play, in the opinion of many critics, a minor masterpiece.

Barter Theatre was originated during the depression as an economic necessity. Robert Porterfield conceived the idea of using jobless actors to form a company which would play to audiences throughout the country accepting farm produce in lieu of admission price. The produce, subsequently bartered or sold, provided the funds necessary to continue the tours. The plan was successful and Porterfield's company became known as the "Barter Theatre." Today, as "The Barter Theatre of Virginia," it plays to audiences throughout the country.

Members of the Cumberland Jaycee Committee are: K. O. Nelson, Chairman; E. V. Cozad and John Reinhard, publicity; Hugh Shires, tickets; Henry H. Lowery, Miles Amick and Ralph Higgins.

French Dike Is Holding

In Indo-China, as in Korea, the "human sea" tactics favored by Communist military strategists have not been working out quite as expected. Twice since Christmas the Vietminh forces have mounted strong offensives against the French, twice they have made initial gains, and twice they have been forced to withdraw after taking severe losses. They will have to try again if they are still determined to win a major victory.

They probably will try again, for the defense command does not think the Vietminh forces have been crippled. It is the opinion in Hanoi that the Communist-led rebels will strike once more—this time with artillery, armored vehicles, and motor transport. But there is a new confidence among the French, for they have just turned back an attack that might well have overwhelmed them only two months ago.

So the dispatches say, and they are to be read with considerable satisfaction because the loss of Indo-China to the Communists would almost certainly mean an all-Communist Asia. But it is even better to read that the Vietminh forces have been handicapped by a serious supply problem. They have plenty of men but they are having a hard time keeping them fed, clothed, armed, provided with ammunition, and cared for if wounded.

These difficulties have not seemed to trouble them overmuch in the past. But things are different now because the French have been carrying on their defense from behind a shortened perimeter, because reinforcements have arrived, and because American equipment has been put into use. Against a determined defense, it appears, even the seemingly limitless manpower resources of the Communists are not an invincible weapon.

A Million

An economist of an earlier generation once declared the average person cannot vision a million dollars. What he meant was simply that the sum of one million applied to money was beyond the understanding of the average citizen He went on to say that a million dollars would supply every need and whim of its owner, and actually make him rich beyond any human desire.

When President Truman announces a proposed budget of $71,000,000 000 even the most learned economist can hardly comprehend such sum. That is, by simple arithmetic, 71,000 millions, a staggering total. Reducing it to what may be simpler terms, Mr. Truman's demands will place a debt on every man, woman and child in the nation of nearly $400.

While the need of these billions of dollars is great, back of the spending lurks the threat of inflation, as well as a general breakdown of the nation's financial system. Fundamentally that system is based upon the integrity of the American dollar, both at home and abroad.

When it becomes necessary to dish them out in such staggering sums great care must be taken to prevent the dollar from becoming so cheap it no longer serves its purpose as the foundation of a great economy.

The China Mess

This country's "allies," who voted enthusiastically in the United Nations to send American boys to fight in Korea, now want no part of naming China as an aggressor. This has resulted in all sorts of rumors as to the course Washington may consider next. Obviously something must be done sooner or later.

There are recurring rumors of incipient plans to help Chinese guerillas with small arms. Such a step is proposed by some who contend there are 500,000 guerillas in China who are giving Mao some trouble now. Under this plan as large a force of Mao's Reds as possible would be kept pinned down in Korea while guerillas worked within the country and, perhaps later, Chiang Kai-shek worked out on the Chinese mainland.

Apparently American strategists do not intend to commit Chiang's Formosan armies at this time, assuming the State Department has weakened in its opposition to Chiang. Mao's forces would probably gobble them up. But if Mao should slip in Korea and guerillas were active in China, Chiang's forces, if equipped by the U. S might have a chance.

The situation in the Far East is a gamble, and improvisations will continue to be made by the U. S., which apparently has been deserted by the United Nations, but continues to go through the motions of presenting resolutions to the moribund outfit and having its representatives engage in interminable wrangling at meetings of the world organization.

Astonishing Failure

Cleveland police recently announced the astonishing fact that in the Greater Cleveland area no less than 50,000 motorists were driving without licenses. The figure was obtained by comparing the number of car licenses with those issued for drivers.

That the situation came about probably is due not so much to deliberate violation of the law as to procrastination in getting licenses, and a willingness to take chances on not getting caught. The amount saved, a dollar for a three-year license, is so small that economy cannot be the chief motive.

Unfortunately such seemingly small disregard for the law is a common and unattractive characteristic of most citizens. In this case the risk run, that of a suspension of driving rights, is out of all proportion to the individual's gain, either in money or convenience.

Driving without a license is not a small matter, even though the individual may be completely qualified and eligible and need only apply for the license to obtain it. The license is important, and the principle of conscientious adherence to the law is even more important. That is basic to democracy.

On Matters Of Opinion

Sometimes a question may be most happily dealt with by asking a second question. Sponsors of a festival in London commissioned a sculptor to make a statue of a mermaid for the fountain in the exhibition gardens. They were startled when the creature turned out to have not the conventional fish-like lower body but definite feminine legs terminating in fins instead of feet.

Did the sculptor, they demanded to know, consider that this was a mermaid? His reply was a question: "Who is to say what a mermaid looks like?"

Who, indeed? Thus could be raised a whole new line of conjecture.

Then considering the species homo sapiens there is an irresistible impulse to call him sap for short.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Masked Amebiasis

ILLNESSES rarely run true to form; the physician would have an easier job if they followed the pattern described in textbooks. Some diseases are more notorious in this respect than others. The worst offenders are disorders that occur in chronic form, with vague symptoms.

Amebic dysentery is an excellent illustration. Symptoms may be absent and the victim is unaware of his plight unless the stools are examined for unrelated reasons. Perhaps the man or woman has applied for a job as a food handler or happens to visit a clinic where this type of analysis is done routinely. At the opposite extreme is the individual who has enough manifestations to suggest amebiasis but the physician has difficulty proving it. There are bouts of diarrhea, with weakness, abdominal pain, nausea, and vomiting. Between attacks he feels fine. But when stool specimens are sent to the laboratory, nothing definite is found. In one instance the patient was a famous surgeon and 18 specimens were examined before the culprit was discovered. Meanwhile other causes for his diarrhea were being investigated but he was almost down to skin and bones by the time the amebic infection was detected.

Physicians believe there are more individuals walking about with this malady than is generally suspected. Many are carriers who are immune and are not bothered by the organisms. But these men and women have no guarantee that immunity will last. Actually they are in a precarious position as any operation, acute infection, or even alcoholic debauch may lower the bars sufficiently to stir up the ailment. When reactivation takes place, symptoms develop and in this respect the disease unmasks itself.

Many veterans from the Pacific theater and other areas where amebic dysentery is rife were examples of masked amebiasis. The toxic effects of the infestation were more annoying than the more common diarrhea, nausea, abdominal cramping, and other intestinal disturbances. These men were always tired and had no energy. They were depressed, irritable, and nervous. Irregularities of bowel function were noted from time to time but were so trivial they were not considered significant. At any rate, amebiasis was uncovered only after a thorough investigation which included every known laboratory test.

We now have a regimen that exceeds anything we had in the past. It consists of using a modern antibotic such as aureomycin or chloromycetin, with the old reliables, emetine, diodoquin, vioform, chiniofon, carbarsone, or a new bismuth-arsenic preparation. Now and then treatment is given in questionable cases and if symptoms disappear the physician feels certain that amebic technically existed. This is known technically as a thereapeutic test.

TOMORROW. Again, antihistaminics and the common cold.

PREVENTIVE TREATMENT

Mrs. R. writes: Is there any treatment to prevent miscarriages?

REPLY

One of the best preventives is early examination—as soon as pregnancy is suspected. After the checkup, the physician will make an attempt to eliminate or treat all the possible causes including glandular and nutritional deficiencies. In any family where there has been a series of miscarriages, the husband and wife should undergo a thorough examination for the detection of infection and a complete survey of the reproductive organs. This includes a complete evaulation of the glandular system.

AMINO ACIDS

Mrs. R. writes: I have read that amino acids help the liver. 1. Is this true? 2. What foods contain amino acids?

REPLY

1. Yes, although other foods are just as useful for [illegible]. 2. The amino acids are found in proteins and the best sources are meat, fish, poultry, dairy products, gelatine, and cereals.

DANCING AND THE SPLEEN

Mrs. B. writes: Is it harmful for a 5 year old girl who was born with an enlarged spleen to take acrobatic dancing?

REPLY

No, provided the cause of the enlarged spleen is not serious.

EPHEDRINE

G. F. writes: Is it dangerous for a person with high blood pressure to take ephedrine for asthma?

REPLY

It usually is not recommended, although the problem is an individual one that must be decided by the physician who knows the case.

EUPHORIA

L. C. D. writes: Does cortisone relieve a person of care and worry?

REPLY

Only to the extent that in some instances it produces euphoria (a sense of well being). If its use results in a dramatic cure of an illness the individual is likely to be so happy that his cares and worries leave him But the drug cannot be taken by all, like after dinner mints.

Underworld Glamor Girl Files Interesting Income Tax; Threat Of Invasion Of Japan Concerned Pentagon; Australia Proposes Armed Alliance With U. S.

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Glamor girl of the underworld is beauteous Virginia Hill in whose home racketeer Bugsie Siegel was murdered. Like most of the top hoodlums, Virginia, now Mrs. Hans Houser, files an interesting income tax showing revenue from unexplained sources.

In 1947, for instance, Virginia reported that her income was a flat $16,000 from "wagers on various sporting events." She cut this income down by claiming her brother, Charles Hill, and her mother, Margaret Hill, as dependents and in the end paid Uncle Sam a tax of $4,270.25. This was rather small considerig the trips this lady took all over the U.S.A. and Europe and the extravagant way she spent money.

The year previous, Miss Hill was a little more affluent and received an income of $23,870 from "wagers on various sporting events."

Other tax returns ran just about the same, with the revenue always from the same source, except that in 1942 she attributed her $18,000 income to "winnings from bets on races." In that year she also deducted a $1,100 contribution to the Jewish old ladies home in Los Angeles.

The history of the glamor-girl friend of hoodlums may give some insight into her sources of income. Born in Lipscond, Ala., on August 26, 1916, she attended public school through the eighth grade, and in 1933 went to Chicago as a waitress and girl about town. From 1933 to 1941 Virginia oscillated between Chicago and New York, sometimes stopping at the Madison Hotel in New York where she met Joe Adonis and Frankie Costello.

It was through them that she met Bugsie Siegel.

$11,251 Hotel Bill

After the war, Virginia took some de luxe trips to Paris in 1947 and to Mexico City in 1949 where she lived with a gay caballero named Juan Romero. She has also lived in Beverly Hills, California, the Waldorf-Astoria and the Biltmore in New York, and once owned a home on Sunset Island No 1 at Miami Beach.

That her reported income does not entirely jibe with her income tax returns is indicated by the fact that her hotel bill at Sun Valley, Idaho, between January 4 and February 24, 1950 totaled $11,251.39. She paid it off in $100 bills.

At Sun Valley she first met ski instructor Hans Houser, a German national whom she married in 1950. Previously she had married L. O. Griffen in 1938, but this was annulled in 1939. Later she married Carlos Valdez Gonzales in Mexico City. This also ended in divorce.

Most interesting thing about Miss Hill's and other income tax returns made by underworld figures is that little effort is made by the Treasury to check them. Obviously such checking is difficult, for most transactions are in cash. But a lady who can afford a hotel bill of $11,251 obviously has an annual income considerably larger than $16,000 to $20,000.

Invasion Of Japan?

One of General MacArthur's cables to Washington caused a real stir in the Pentagon recently; for he reported Russian troop movements on Sakhalin, the long narrow island that skirts the coast of Siberia just north of Japan.

At first it was feared such troop movements meant a Red invasion of Japan, and the cables were kept hot between London, Paris and Washington. There is only a 25-mile stretch of water between Northern Japan and Southern Sakhalin.

However, neither British Intelligence nor U. S. Central Intelligence bore out the MacArthur report. Further checking showed that it came from Japanese prisoners repatriated from Siberia where they had been kept for five years. On being questioned a second time the prisoners admitted they had only been "told" of Russian troops in Southern Sakhalin, had not actually seen them. It may have been significant that they were "told" of these troop movements by the Russians shortly before their release—a possible byplay in the war of nerves.

However, it remains a fact that the Soviet does have heavy troop concentrations not far from Japan on the Siberian mainland. Steve Nagel, who made expert studies of Russian strength by interrogating German prisoners after the war, has made some of the most comprehensive surveys of Soviet Siberian strength so far published and estimates that 750,000 Red soldiers are now training opposite Japan and Alaska.

He also estimates that the Red Army has 4,500 planes in this area, plus a number of airborne divisions, plus about 100 submarines.

On the other hand, U. S. strategists in the Pentagon figure that our forces in Japan are strong enough to block any Russian attack. They depend on extremely heavy U. S. naval forces in the Far East, plus the largest group of jet fighters we have anywhere in the world. But most important of all, they depend on the atom bomb.

It is no longer a secret that the atom bomb is on hand and ready for use in or near Japan. Atomic retaliation against Russia unquestionably remains the most powerful deterrent we have against Soviet aggression.

U. S. Aussie Alliance

U. S. relations with Australia, extremely close during the war, now may become even closer. The Australian government has formally proposed a military alliance with the United States.

In some respects this would make Australia more of a partner to Uncle Sam than to John Bull, which was virtually the case during the war. For Australian External Minister Herbert Evatt spent most of his time in Washington rather than in London urging more concentration of U. S. military power in the Far East. Simultaneously Prime Minister Churchill spent his time in Washington urging more concentration of U. S. military power in Europe.

Today history is repeating. Prime Minister Attlee is urging the United States to keep out of China, withdraw from Korea and concentrate on Europe; while Australia is urging us to watch China.

4-H Clubs For Asia

America's famous 4-H clubs will become a weapon in the desperate fight against communism in Asia. Young farmers from Southeast Asia will be brought to this country to study the 4-H clubs and adapt them to their own countries.

The idea came to Allen Griffin, ECA's Far Eastern chief, during a recent tour of Indo-China, Siam and Burma. Later he told Washington colleagues: "If the young people of Asia become interested in better farming, they will be a powerful ally in the drive to raise the standard of living. I think 4-H clubs for Asia can help accomplish this."

Another aspect of the program Griffin brought back is to train young Asiatic farmers in Oriental agriculture at the University of Hawaii.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

The Chance Of War—II

WASHINGTON

A fundamental change has come over the world situation in the last six months. The Soviet Union, for the first time, has made certain obvious preparations for a military move in Europe. The pattern suggests an attack on Yugoslavia; but measures have also been taken to prepare for a larger onslaught on Western Europe by the 35 Soviet divisions in East Germany and Poland.

Such is the simplest summary of a previous report in this space. It did not cover the equally striking pattern on the Indo-Chinese border, where a Chinese "liberation army" of 250,000 men stands ready to drive southward when and if its Sino-Russian joint staff gives the order. Nor did the previous report include such other intelligence as the recent appearance of at least one and perhaps two additional Russian divisions, plus puppet forces formed from Japanese prisoners, on the island of Sakhalin.

The concentration on Sakhalin hold out an obvious threat of airborne attack on the nearby, almost undefended Japanese north island of Hokkaido. Alarmists point out that the Kremlin would combine an operation against Hokkaido with an attempt to isolate our forces in Korea by submarine and air action. But in view of the extreme Soviet weakness at sea except in submarines, the reinforcement of Sakhalin is more generally regarded as a war-of-nerves measure to discourage us from carrying on the Korean fight.

Three Main Points

The meaning of all the different troop movements and military measures around the perimeter of the Soviet empire can be similarly disputed. Yet three points stand out from the broad picture. First, water does not protect Southeast Asia and Europe from direct attack, as it partly protects Japan. Second, the Kremlin has never before been really ready to attack either in Southeast Asia or in Europe, but has got ready now. Third, almost all the preparations have been made within the short space of the last six months.

The timing is vital. In effect, this immense job of fitting the missing parts into the Soviet war machine has been done since the Korean war started. Moreover, the job was already well-begun before there was any serious attempt to rearm Western Germany.

These facts in turn suggest the change that the Korean experience has wrought in Soviet policy and tactics. Last June, there was no doubt that the Kremlin intended to imitate the feat of Hitler between 1936 and 1939, when he absorbed half of Europe without firing a shot, by the simple expedient of frightening people out of their wits. Great demonstrations of Soviet power and Western weakness, beginning in Korea and going on from there, were to lead from surrender to surrender Eventually the Western alliance was thus to be broken, and the grand prize, Western Europe, was then to be cheaply seized. All was to be done without risk of war.

Unfortunately, since the United States most irregularly responded to the Korean challenge (tearing up its own high policy papers in order to do so), the whole scheme went wrong at the start. It has therefore been adjusted in one simple but absolutely vital way.

Risk of War Accepted

What was to be done before Korea without risk of war, is now to be done even if it involves a risk of general war. The risk is to be kept to a minimum, as is hinted by the apparent choice of the politically friendless Yugoslavia as the first victim in Europe. But the risk is still to be accepted, in order to bring all Eurasia into the Soviet empire before the Western allies can rebuild their strength.

Such is the simplest and least tortured, if also the most gloomy interpretation of the known evidence. It is certainly far more convincing than the theory that these Soviet preparations, which were launched in July, were "provoked" by discussion of German rearmament, which only began in September and has not yet come to anything. It fits admirably the rule laid down by Gen.von Seeckt, the cynical, brilliant rebuilder of the German Reichswehr.

"The statesman (whose sole aim is power) will soon find himself

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — The Congress of the United States by a unanimous vote of both houses has taken the unprecedented step of notifying the United Nations that Red China should be declared an aggressor.

This carries with it the implication that the Congress—which alone possesses the war-making power under our Constitution—is ready to proclaim, if necessary, a naval blockade of Red China and to apply economic penalties by shutting off all trade.

The entire world has been told now that the American government, irrespective of party, stands united on the issue of declaring Red China an aggressor. Soviet Russia and Red China are now aware that, whatever may have been the dissensions of the past here on foreign policy, there is unanimity now on the matter of resisting aggression.

The action of both houses of Congress is of far-reaching importance whether or not the UN votes favorably on the American resolution to brand Red China as the aggressor. Had the motion in the UN been adopted without the passage of a congressional resolution, there might have been doubts abroad as to the extent to which the Congress would go in backing up the executive here.

UN A Debating Forum

If, on the other hand, the UN now fails to muster the necessary majority for the adoption of the American resolution, the UN members will face a rather embarrassing situation. The United States will have to decide then whether to go it alone in the Far East or whether to consider the UN has failed in dealing with aggression. Such a failure could mean that, in any future aggressions by any other nations, the United States would feel free to disassociate itself and act alone.

Clearly the future of the UN as an effective instrument of international policy hangs in the balance. America may have to develop foreign policies now without regard to the collective action of the assembly and may consider a move to abandon the plan whereby a majority of the nations can take collective measures in defense of the charter. Thus the UN might have to become merely a debating forum and not a parliament of nations.

The United States, as the sponsor of the recent move to utilize the assembly for the promulgation of measures to resist aggression, can with consistency urge that the problem of aggression hereafter be dealt with by regional agreements. This would mean that reciprocal treaties or agreements could be made whereby other nations would be aided by the United States only on condition that they pledge themselves to furnish aid to this country when its interests are jeopardized through the aggression of a third state.

The hesitation of Great Britain and other member nations to vote immediately for a resolution by the UN to declare Red China an aggressor has alienated many people here who hitherto have been ready to excuse the dilatoriness of the Attlee government. Such apologies are no longer heard. For the Attlee government has repeatedly shown itself much more concerned about its investments in Hong Kong than in the continued support of the United States.

Anglo-American Relations Hurt

In the final analysis, it is predicted that the British will reluctantly go along with American policy. But the cost already has been considerable and Anglo-American relations have suffered an injury which only a Churchill may some day be able to heal.

Out of all the resolutions voted by Congress, what stands out it the Senate resolution, also adopted unanimously, which would bar Red China from admission to the UN. This alone ought to accentuate to European countries the lengths to which American legislators have been provoked to go by the appeasement policies sponsored by the Attlee government, India and the Arab countries. Plainly America is beginning to discover that she has fewer friends among the nations of the world in a showdown than she thought she had.

Would the United States someday, if Britain is attacked and the UN spends several weeks debating whether Soviet Russia is an aggressor, hesitate to condemn aggression? The British government may well ask itself that question today in fairness to the American people.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Question Of Books

IT USED TO BE that a man with an idea or an ambition wrote a book and got a publisher to project it to the public. Some newspapers and magazines turned to learned men to comment on the book. That neither made nor killed the book. Nor did any one publication have a monopoly of book reviewing or of book advertising.

Actually no publication enjoys a full monopoly in this reviewing field today. But because publishers have found it cheaper to place advertisements in fewer publications three of them have become foremost in this field, namely, the book sections of the Sunday "New York Times" and the Sunday "Herald Tribune," and the "Saturday Review of Literature."

Librarians often make their purchases of new books on the basis of what these three publications say about a book, which is a lazy way of doing things—but then we live in a lazy, 40-hour week world. Should a particular group of reviewers gain currency in all these publications, a book could be killed by common consent among them.

Now along comes Irene Corbally Kuhn, a responsible journalist with a long experience, who writes an article for "The American Legion Magazine" entitled "Why You Buy Books That Sell Communism." It is an important article in these days.

She makes the point that not only librarians but saleswomen in bookshops are influenced by book reviews in these publications. Mrs. Kuhn says:

(The saleswoman) ". . . guided her purchases of books, especially reorders, by what the reviewers said. She felt the 'experts' those big important newspapers chose to review for them knew more about books than she did."

Mrs. Kuhn then shows conclusively that there is a left-wing literary network consisting of interchangeable writers and reviewers who praise each other's works and who either condemn, ignore or slander the works of conservative writers. This was equally true, for many years, of editors and readers for magazines and publishing houses.

I had a peculiar experience in 1942, when Doubleday, Doran asked me to do a book. I had no particular desire to write a book of any kind at that time but I said that I would be willing to consider one subject, namely, "Asia for the Asiatics."

I wanted—mind you, this was 1942—to show that all Asiatics hate the Europeans and Americans because of Anglo-Saxon racial superiority and that one of the results of the war then going on, whether Japan won or lost, would be that the Asiatic would seek to drive the white man off his continent.

The editor seemed to be quite enthusiastic, while we conversed, but subsequently turned the idea down on the grounds that it was not timely.

That did not bother me, for with my obligations what they are, this would have been a terrific chore both of research and writing. The fact that events turned out as I had then indicated, only shows what the real nonsense of "timeliness" is. However, I learned later that the opposition to the book came from a left-wing group.

As a case history, Mrs. Kuhn takes among others, John T. Flynn's "The Road Ahead," a remarkably accurate survey of our situation and a book that has had wide distribution, especially by public organizations. She quotes Mr. Devin Garrity, the publisher, as follows:

"We published the book and waited for the reviews, especially the Sunday 'New York Herald Tribune'. After two months, when it seemed fairly certain there would be no review, I instituted some inquires and learned that the review copy had been received and was on file, but that it had been marked for the silent treatment. No review was scheduled for it. We then bought advertising space in the 'Herald Tribune's Sunday book section and ran the excellent and fair review of Mr. Flynn's book which had been written by John Chamberlain . . ."

"The Herald Tribune" then changed its position and a review did appear—"a smear job," according to Mr. Garrity, "to counteract the effect of the favorable Chamberlain review we had bought the space to run."

I have no more room to discuss this article, but if you want to read it, write to The American Legion Magazine, 580 Fifth Avenue, New York 19, New York. They have been circulating reprints. This is well worth your while.

ALONG THE POTOMAC TO WASHINGTON

(By Representative J. Glenn Beall, Sixth Maryland District)

IN the last few months of the 81st Congress, federal taxes were increased by an estimated $7,700,000,000 to a little more than $45 billion a year, the highest in our history to that date. Now, however, the President's budget for fiscal year 1952 calls for a $71½ billion budget with tax increases to $16 billion and possibly running to $20 billion. To balance the budget and pay-as-you-go, as some suggest, federal taxes will have to be raised another $500 a year for every man, woman and child in the country. Many fear such a huge tax boost would wreck our national economy and defeat its own purpose. Others argue the only practical way to raise this tremendous revenue would be through some form of federal sales tax on manufacturers or consumers. Needless to say, it will have to be raised someway if we are not to have further huge federal deficits.

The House, in the first bill passed by the 82nd Congress, unanimously approved $2 billion Naval expansion bill, providing for 173 new warships, and for the conversion of 291 others. Included in the new vessels is a 57,000 ton super aircraft carrier to handle atomic bombers at a cost of $235 million. The epublican 80th Congress voted funds for a 65,000 ton super carrier which the Navy started to build in 1949, but later abandoned on orders of the President and Secretary of Defense Johnson, at a cancellation cost of $20 million. The new carrier will cost $46 million more than the larger original carrier, making the Truman - Johnson cancellation order cost $66 million, and 18 months of precious time.

The 82nd Congress is getting off at a slow start. Big changes in membership with 71 new representatives and 9 new senators requiring much re-huffling in committee assignments. Makeup of the House is now 234 Democrats, 199 Republicans, 1 Liberal - Democrat and 1 Independent. The Senate has 48 Democrats, 1 Democrat-Liberal and 47 Republicans. In addition to committee reshuffling, Congress must wait upon the President's recommendations for a $71½ billion budget and $16 to $20 billion tax increase.

Cooperation between our allies and us in the matter of denying war potential goods to Russia is revealed by the fact that only after a sharp note from us did France cancel an order for 139,000 tons of steel rails destined for Red China, a Soviet partner, fighting us in Korea. Also Britain and Holland, two members of the Atlantic Pact, are supplying Russia and Red China with increasing supplies of rubber. We cannot afford or

Is Fiancee Of John T. Morris

Mrs. Angela Jenkins, Miss Christine Alderton and Miss Josephine Esposita entertained with a miscellaneous shower and pre-nuptial party in compliment to Miss Kamilla Floy Athey, Tuesday evening at Miss Esposita's home, Woodlawn Terrace.

Miss Athey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor S. Athey, 563 Patterson Avenue, is the fiancee of John T. Morris, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Morris, Davis, W. Va., and will become his bride, Friday.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 7 p.m., in First Baptist Church with Rev. O. Afton Linger officiating. Mrs. Jenkins is to be the bride's matron of honor and only attendant and Bernard Wolford will serve as Mr. Morris' best man.

White satin streamers, tied with wedding rings, were suspended from the chandelier over the shower gifts arranged upon a table. Streamers also extended to the corners of the room. The same motif was repeated in the tiered wedding cake adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom centering the buffet lunch table. The evening was spent informally.

Other guests were Mrs. Athey, Mrs. Harry Hart, Mrs. Louise Walker, Mrs. Thelma Del Signore, Mrs. Audrie Baker, Mrs. Samuel Esposita, Mrs. Carolyn Welsh, Miss Monica Browning, Miss Mildred Abbott, Miss Elsie Bowman and Miss Angela Wilson.

Miss Athey was also an honor guest together with Mrs. Ora Hamilton, recent bride; and Miss Maxine Leonard, fiancee of Thomas Allison, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; of Miss Althea Birchard and Mrs. Betty Flick, at the latter's home, North Chase Street, recently. The bridal motif was carried out in the white flowers used throughout the house and decorating the table. A buffet style lunch was served. Other guests were Mrs. Lee Cohn, Miss Marguerite Spicer and Miss Joan Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. Athey and Mrs. Jon S. Cranor, LaVale, aunt of Mr. Morris, are entertaining with a wedding reception for the bridal party and intimate friends, at the new home of Mr. Morris and his bride, 223 Fulton Street, following the ceremony.

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON

IF EVER a house were haunted, creaking with silence and full of emptiness—that house is the old German Embassy . . . And the other day the U. S. Government advertised it for sale.

Mr. Clarence Smith (in charge of the Real Estate Section of the Justice Department's Office of Alien Property) expects it'll be bought for its good location on Massachusetts Avenue, and torn down.

AUSTINE

Of course, not just anybody can walk in and plank down cash for it . . . If you hanker to purchase an ex-embassy, owned by Hitler's Germany and the Kaiser's Imperial government since 1893, you must turn in a sealed bid . . The bids won't be opened until February 16 . . . And no use bothering to bid unless you're an American citizen and can submit an affidavit that you won't turn around and re-sell it to an alien.

If you are the successful bidder, you can take over the 90 rooms, including a ballroom and a dozen bathrooms, and set yourself up where doomed Germany's diplomats once boiled and brewed their plans . . . Before that dark December day in 1941 when they were bundled up and shipped off to White Sulphur Springs.

Later, during the war, when the neutral Swiss took over the building, they found besides the splendid furniture (since sold at auction) and the three million dollars in American currency (since turned over to the Treasury), and a huge portrait of Hitler (nobody seems to know what's happened to that)—besides these they found a heavy-set man in overalls, say 40 or 50 years old.

The Swiss nicknamed the fellow "Mr. X" . . . because this faithful caretaker was Frank X. (for Xavier) Korber.

A German by birth, but an American citizen, he had worked at the embassy for the Germans, but when they left he stayed on . . . And there in the back of the former German Embassy he still lives, the only living thing left over from the Nazi regime.

Frank Korber has tended with almost loving hands the old house, built of brick in the grand Gothic style at the century's turn . . . The mansion probably reminds him of a once great lady who married beneath her and wears darned stockings . . . But Frank has tried to keep her in shape, patching the roof, mending windows, walking through the echoing rooms until the house seems familiar as an old friend. . .

And, often, scenes he remembers drift to mind . . . How the German diplomats, before World War II, scurried in and out of the Code Room and other secret rooms, guarded with steel, burglarproof, fireproof doors . . . A fever of activity . . . How some of them he could sense in his heart were true Nazis and some were afraid not to be . . . How some of them as they were leaving actually spat in his face . . . Screamed at him . . . If he were a true German he would go with them.

He was glad when they'd gone, but he was lonely . . . Living in one of the servant's rooms at the back of the Embassy, he talked to no one, saw no one for months on end . . . Then the Swiss, who were handling the property, began occasionally to send one of their vigorous, shining countrymen to sweep, dust, clean and keep order . . . She was the only person Frank could, or would, talk to . . . She not only brought order to the house but a warm light into his eyes . . . Five years ago they were married and today have two babies, the latest six months old.

No other honeymooners in America lived in a stranger atmosphere . . . Next month this first home of theirs will be put on the auction block . . . The caretaker and his little family will have to find new quarters.

"We'd like a modern apartment building!" beams Mrs. Korber, whose orderly Swiss soul longs for modern conveniences.

In any event when they move a page of their stranger-than-fiction life-story will be turned forever.

And when the old German Embassy disappears, for Washington, too, another chapter of history will be finished.

That's the end of the Feature Film . . . Now how about some Snappy Short Reels?

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

LONG BEFORE the "life begins at forty stage," every woman should teach herself to prefer the foods that will help her retain the attributes of youth—verve and a radiant appearance. If you get your appetite and taste preferences under control early you will not only never have a weight problem, but will always be younger in appearance and in heart than in birthdays.

Of course, it is never too late to start eating for beauty and health. Even after years of abuse, many a woman has regained a far more youthful appearance, just by correcting her eating habits.

Foods to Keep You Young

If you want to feel and look your best, keep these points about your daily diet in mind for the rest of your life:

1. Eat much less of those "fuel" foods, the starches and sugars, than you did before maturity. Because you are less active as an adult than as a child, you need less for energy. Consequently, any overage you consume will only add pounds that make you feel lethargic. No asset for the charmer at any age!

2. Consume plenty of high vitamin and mineral foods, fruits, vegetables and milk, for the continuing beauty of your skin and hair.

3. Make sure to get your daily requirements of protein foods, lean meats cheese and eggs, for renewal of tissue. Ask your doctor whether you are one of the persons who can benefit by following the new, high-protein diets.

Ageless Menu

Try patterning your daily menus after this sample:

Breakfast: Fresh (or canned) blackberries (high in vitamin C). One-egg omelette, 1 thin slice of toasted dark bread, 1 thin pat of butter, coffee (with milk if desired, but no cream or sugar).

Lunch: Hot vegetable plate, melba toast, milk or buttermilk.

Don't be HALF-SAFE
by VALDA SHERMAN

Many mysterious changes take place in your body as you mature. Now, the glands under your arms begin to secrete daily a new type of perspiration containing substances which will—if they reach your dress—cause ugly stains and clinging odor.

You'll face this problem throughout womanhood. It's not enough merely to stop the odor of this perspiration. You must now use a deodorant that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches—and ruins—your clothes.

As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It's been proved that the new cream deodorant Arrid stops underarm perspiration 1 to 3 days safely—keeps underarms dry and sweet.

Remember this, too. Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact—prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps you "shower-bath" fresh. And it's safe for skin—safe for fabrics.

So, don't be half-safe. Don't risk your happiness with half-safe deodorants. Be Arrid-safe! Use Arrid to be sure. Arrid with Creamogen will not dry out, and it's so pleasant and easy to apply. Get Arrid today—only 39¢ plus tax.

Miners' Raise Will Cause Coal Hike

The recent wage hike for the soft coal industry will mean an increase in the price of coal to the consumer here, it was indicated yesterday.

While the actual effect of the increase has not been determined by some of the main suppliers for local firms, one dealer estimated yesterday morning the increase might be as much as 30 cents a ton.

The miner's increase of $1.60 cents a day is effective February 1 and retail prices are expected to rise at the same time.

Dealers in other cities have estimated the increase might mean from 50 to 75 cents on the ton. They also expect agreement in the hard coal industry soon and a similar increase in the retail price.

Sanitary Commission Employees Get Raise

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners Tuesday approved salary rates for two employes of the LaVale Sanitary Commission.

It was done at the request of William B. Ludman, chairman of the LaVale group. Approval of the salary rates is a formality under the legislation which set up the sanitary commission.

The LaVale Sanitary Commission pays the salaries from taxes levied within the commission's jurisdiction and from water charges.

Lowndes Calls For More Schools, Better Teacher Pay

The president of the State Board of Education urged immediate action by the Legislature to provide more school buildings and more pay for teachers.

Both problems must be met "boldly and without equivocation to forestall the consequences that will inevitably arise unless we take action now," Tasker G. Lowndes, this city, declared in a statement.

Lowndes referred to the last war when no buildings could be constructed and teachers left "in droves" for better paying jobs.

The same thing is being done again by the teachers," said Lowndes.

"The problem of salaries should be acted upon immediately," he stated. "The state should provide an increase immediately through the regular state salary law and with additional state funds, and the counties and Baltimore City should add to their salaries as the situation demands."

School teachers got their last pay raise in 1947 when the sales tax was instituted.

"We thought we had solved" the teacher pay problem, the state educator said, but it has become acute again in the past few months because of the war emergency.

New school construction costing $125,000,000 is needed, according to a survey by the State Department of Education. The state has completed or is finishing $105,000,000 in school building it started five years ago.

Property Sold

John R. Dehne and Dorothy Madeline Dehne have sold half of a lot in LaVale, with improvements, to William H. Grove and Jeanette M. Grove in a $7,750 transaction, according to a deed filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of circuit court. The property is situated on National Highway about 800 feet west of Camp Ground Road.

This year's blueprints for fairs and agricultural expositions in Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, will be drafted during the thirty-ninth convention of the Pennsylvania organization.

Wes Fesler Named Head Grid Coach At Minnesota

Former Star's Appointment Is Surprise

Ex-Ohio State Mentor Signs 3-Year Contract

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 24 (INS)—Wesley Fesler, who quit Ohio State because of pressure from second-guessers, accepted a three-year contract today as football coach of the University of Minnesota.

Wes Fesler

Athletic Director Ike Armstrong announced the appointment and said Fesler would receive a salary of $14,000 a year.

The naming of Fesler came as a complete surprise since the former Ohio State All-American previously had announced his intention to leave football to enter the real estate business.

He succeeds Bernie Bierman as boss of the Gophers. Bierman resigned near the end of last year after one of the worst Minnesota football season's in history.

Fesler resigned as coach at Ohio State following the 1950 season. He had threatened such action the previous season after winning the Rose Bowl game.

He brings with him line coach Lyal Clark and backfield coach Dick Fisher of Ohio State and a system that combines both the T-formation and the single wing.

It was Bierman's refusal to switch from the single wing to the T-formation that led to his downfall after winning four national championships in the 30's and early 40's.

Minnesota newspapermen called Bierman's rock-em-sock-em football "stone age strategy." Bierman has not sought another job since leaving Minnesota.

Fesler has not yet indicated whether he would ask any of Bierman's assistants to remain on the Minnesota staff.

Fesler coached at Ohio State four years. He was boss of the University of Pittsburgh football team for one season and also helped coach basketball and football at Harvard and Connecticut Wesleyan.

Woman Sues Louis For Alleged Assault

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis was sued for $100,000 today by a woman who said he beat her up in a Cleveland Hotel room last July 4.

The plaintiff in the supreme court damage suit is Odessa Calloway, 25-year-old New York negro golfer, who said she was attending a Cleveland golf tourney at the time.

She did not go into details of the alleged assault beyond charging that Louis "violently and in a brutal manner, assaulted, struck and beat me about the head, face, body and limbs without provocation."

Mt. Savage Little League Has Election

George McGann Is President Of Loop

MT. SAVAGE, Jan. 24—Officers of the newly formed Little Baseball League were elected at a meeting of Mt. Savage residents this week at the Knights of Columbus hall and plans for the next meeting were formulated.

George McGann was elected president of the four-team independent circuit, John Deffinbaugh, vice president and Colin Barth, secretary-treasurer.

Members of various local organizations who are interested in the formation of the new league were named to the board of directors at the meeting. They are Henry Lashley and Colin Barth of the Mt. Savage Veterans of Foreign Wars, Grover Green of Volunteer Fire Company, Peter Hughes and Joseph Nolan, Dr., of the Mt. Savage American Legion Post, and Dr. William E. Moseley and Patrick Fannon, Mt. Savage Lions Club

Thirty-five boys ranging in ages from 9 to 13 have been registered for the league and others may register at Mt. Savage Junior High School between 8:30 and 9 p. m. until Sunday, January 28. Thomas Lewis is in charge of registration at the school.

Officers and board of directors of the league will hold their next meeting Sunday in the Knights of Columbus hall at 2 p. m.

Roy Campanella Signs; Gets Salary Boost

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (INS)—Roy Campanella, ace catcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, signed a one-year contract today for approximately $20,000, an increase of $8,000 over last year.

Last year he accepted most chances in the National League (748), had most putouts (683) and led in throwing out base runners, nabbing 32 of the 48 who tried to steal.

He rated just behind Ralph Kiner of the Pirates as a home-run hitter with 31 to his credit. He also led the league's catchers in hits (123), runs (70) total bases (241) and runs batted in (89).

No Special Draft Status Is Planned For 4-F Athletes

Defense Head Says Changes To Be Made

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—The excitement over drafting 4-F athletes into the armed services today simmered down to this:

Athletes will get the same treatment every one else does, no better and no worse.

Furthermore, a spokesman for the Surgeon General's office said that's the way it was in World War II. He said athletes who were classified in 4-F then definitely belonged there.

A reminder: under the present law, only those who are from 19 to 26 years old are eligible. The field is further cut down because those who are married, are veterans or have dependents are exempt.

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, told reporters today:

"Athletes will be regarded like anyone else when it comes to possible deferment."

In this she was amplifying a statement made yesterday by her boss, Secretary of Defense Marshall.

Marshall shocked the sports world all the way down to its sweat socks by saying it may be necessary to draft for limited service some athletes who flunk their selective service exams and wind up 4-Fs.

Mrs. Rosenberg says that doesn't mean athletes will be singled out for special treatment. She gave this example:

"If an athlete has a punctured eardrum, he will be inducted because men with punctured eardrums are taken."

Mrs. Rosenberg told a congressional committee last week that, if 18-year-olds are drafted, 300,000 of them would not be able to pass the present draft tests.

She said under a proposed change in standards, 100,000 of these 300,000 would be acceptable.

So far, she hasn't said what these changes would be.

Club To Meet

The Mt. Savage Baseball Club of the Bi-State League will hold a meeting Sunday at 3 p. m. in the Knights of Columbus hall. All members are urged to atend.

Sisler Returns Phils Contracts Unsigned

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 24—(AP)—Dick Sisler, the man who gave the Philadelphia Phillies a National League pennant with one swing of the bat, doesn't like the pay offers from the Phils so far.

"We've just had a little disagreement over a few thousand dollars," Sisler said today.

He has received two contracts, both calling for increases, he said, but both have gone back to the club unsigned.

Ken Church Ties For Riding Honors

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 24 (AP) — The epidemic of upsets continued at Hialeah Park today when Rarco Stable's Prepared made every role a winning one in the fourth race and paid $95.60, $33.10 and $16.60.

In his previous start here, while racing in slightly cheaper company, Prepared, ridden then by Joe Culmone, finished a bad last in a field of eleven. This time, with R. J. Martin up, he defeated Wolf Whistle, Piragua and Mucho Mas. The colt went the six furlongs in 1.11 3/5.

Hugh A. Grant's Wise Choice, with Willie Passmore riding, had little trouble beating 11 other 3-year-old maiden fillies in the third. She had all the speed in clicking by a length and a half from Our Jester, paying $24.20. Sail Cloth was a distant third. The time was a slow 1.13 3/5.

The daily double was worth $50.90, after White Oak Stable's Blue Man, ($8.10) won the opening dash for maiden juveniles, and Hal Price Headley's Flamingo candidate, Gray Mater ($11.60,) romped off with the second under Logan Batcheller. Ken Church tied Hedley Woodhouse for the meeting's riding honors getting his eighth marker on Blue Man.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 24—(INS)—Alan Curtis and his bride, the former Betty Dodero, are saying farewell to the U. S. A. and are leaving for France and Spain where Alan will produce "The Seine," a story about the famous river which has been immortalized in fiction and in reality.

Just before he left, Alan told me about the time he was arrested in Italy. It was during the war, and because his real name is a German one he was called before the authorities. "I was in uniform with the American Army," he said, "and it was soon proved that I was born in the U. S. A."

At that time Alan had to give an oath of allegiance to all of the allies, including Russia. So, before he left for Europe, he contacted the FBI to see if that would make trouble for him abroad.

Here comes Richard Tregaskis, former INS war correspondent, again with a big idea for the movies.

Tregaskis, who was wounded in World War II, and whose "Guadalcanal Diary" made history, is writing the life story of Gen. Maurice Rose.

Gen. Rose, son of a rabbi, led the gallant Third Armored Division, the forefront for Gen. Patton's memorable dash across Europe. He was killed in action, and his widow has given Tregaskis permission to write his story, which will be called "Spearhead."

On what I laughingly call my day off, I rushed to have a late luncheon with Anita Loos.

We chatted with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who came and sat with us. Doug says his three-year-old daughter keeps saying "exclusive." "And that," said Doug, "comes from hearing you on the radio."

Merle Oberon dropped by and said that she has already been paid for her RKO picture, but if she doesn't get an assignment within a certain time, she's free to return to Paris. She'll sell her home in Bel-Air and make her home in France.

Mildred Knopf, who is one of Hollywood's really unusual women, also joined us. Said Anita:

"Mildred does needlework that could very well be displayed in a museum. She's just finished a carpet that is in the class with Queen Mary's classic work."

Then Mildred told us she had written 40,000 words on her new novel. She also said that Rose, Marchioness of Headford, arrives next week to be her house guest.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Eugene O'Brien, veteran actor, is in Queen of Angels for major surgery.

It's a baby son for the Josef Von Sternbergs, born in Weehawken, New Jersey. The young man's name is Michael Josef.

John Barrymore, Jr., who is growing up fast, glimpsed at the Tallyho with pretty USC Coed Marsha Williams.

Sarah Churchill, who flew to England to spend a few days with her father, the one and only Winston, will be back with Tony Beaucamp almost before this item is in the column. I wish they'd come back to Hollywood. We all miss them.

John Huston says that he hasn't bought Budd Schulberg's book, "The Disenchanted," and Budd says he has not yet sold it.

Hopalong Cassidy, who had a sensational trip to South America where he was given a great ovation, arrives in Houston in a few days. Bob Stapler, his business manager, goes there to meet him.

Mineral County Accidents Cost $55,850 Damage

State Police Stress Five Lives Lost In '50

KEYSER, W. Va.—Property damage in Mineral county during 1950, as a result of automobile accidents, was $55,850, according to West Virginia State Police in Keyser in the annual statement just issued.

In addition to the property loss, the report stresses that five persons lost their lives and 108 others were injured in the 12-month period.

The Keyser office of State police investigated 113 accidents, an average of one accident every three days.

Activity of state police in the county was not, however, confined to highway patrol service. The report shows that 736 hours were spent investigating major crimes, such as breaking and entering, grand and petit larceny and felonious assault. In connection with this, 79 reports were submitted and filed and 87 persons were arrested and charged with felonies. Five motor vehicles were recovered with a total valuation of $5,200, and other stolen property recovered, amounting to $1,949.22.

Eighty-seven felony arrests were made, 152 persons were arrested and charged with road violations and 97 others were charged with miscellaneous misdemeanors such as petty larceny, assault and battery and intoxication, for a grand total of 336 arrests for major and minor law violations.

The majority of the minor arrests were disposed of by payment of fines amounting to more than $1,000.

Other portions of the report disclose that during the year 714 motor vehicles were checked and 227 warnings were issued for mechanical defects and for failure to comply with the law with reference to having regular and operator's licenses in possession of the driver of cars. There were 533 persons examined for drivers licenses and notice of revocation were served on 15 drivers.

The members of the Keyser office, Cpl. O. G. Wehley and Trooper W. Frank Bowley, express, in their report, their appreciation for the cooperation of the other police organizations, both in and out of Mineral County and also in adjoining states.

Sites Is Named Minority Clerk

KEYSER, W. Va.—Leonard Sites, director of organization of the Young Republican League of West Virginia, has been named minority clerk of the 50th session of the West Virginia House of Delegates.

Duet in Terry Cloth

Terry Cloth Robes

FASHION: A brand-new idea is a terry cloth bathrobe-beach-robe just adapted from the duffer storm coats so popular this season. Being absorbent, it's fine to wrap up in whether you step out of a shower or the surf.

Dress Tips: If a zipper shows the least sign of being out of order, don't wait for an embarrassing moment—have it checked by your men's wear store without delay. . . . If you suddenly discover that your French cuffs are soiled or frayed and there's no fresh shirt immediately at hand, just turn them inside out—for the emergency.

Gadgets: A heavy canvas duck log-carrier—that makes it a bit easier to trundle in logs for the fireplace. . . . Pocket-size key-wind alarm with a shrill siren you can set off with a flick of a switch—if danger threatens.

New Ideas: Comedian Morey Amsterdam is seeking a patent on a new type of luggage—has built-in rollers on bottom for easier transportation. . . . Bandleader Sammy Kaye, who often has to pack clothes right after taking them off, uses moisture-absorbent crystals in his bags—for quick drying. Paramount Pictures' barber Victor Honig—backed by John Lund and others—is marketing a scalp tonic that the stars use.

Show World: Robert Alda, who's such a smash in "Guys & Dolls," may revive a fad for the deep-tone shirts he wears on stage. Mark Hellinger never stopped wearing them. . . . And colorful bathrobes are getting a boost—by courtesy of the TV wrestlers. . . . Howard Hughes once startled New York by appearing in tuxedo and sneakers.

Wrong

Right

Clothes Care: Coat should hug neck at back and sides. Gapping is often caused by putting on coat carelessly: sometimes by stretching of cloth. Latter can be easily corrected by tailor.

The Man Pays: So help take care of of her furs! Never hang her coat on a hook by the neck—hang it by one shoulder instead, using the pad as protection. . . . It's nice to hold a gal by the arm while strolling—but too much of it will cause wear on the coat's elbows. Hold hands instead! . . . Never put her coat atop or next to a radiator. It can scorch the fur—and you can lose the girl. . . . Warn her against "bar elbows," caused by leaning too long on a slick surface. . . . Watch your cigarette. Fur singes so easily.

Handyman: To prevent nuts from freezing on bolts through rusting, dip threads of bolts in shellac first. They'll always come apart thereafter. . . . To make easier work of cleaning icy sidewalks and shoveling snow, put a thick coating of soap on the sliding surface of the shovel.

Words of Wisdom: Clifton Webb, a best-dressed expert, says: "I do not dress expensively. Any man can dress well and within his income if he has good taste and some sense of selectivity.

Expert on Dress

Odd Notes: Sanford, Fla., has an organization named "Friendship Front," where, on the payment of $1,000, you get a room for the rest of your life. . . . Recommended: the hilarious tome, "Fractured French," by F. S. Pearson. . . . 24 states now bar hitchhiking. . . . When starting a transatlantic run, the Queen Elizabeth carries 1,600,000 gallons of water. . . . Horseman Arnold Hanger claims he always breaks in a new hat by wearing it under the shower! (We do not recommend it!) . . . This week's "Pass the Cigars" to—Jack Gilford, who transferred from Broadway to the Met opera so creditably in "Fledermaus."

Matter Of Fact

thwarted in some way or other, will deduce from the opposition a menace first to his plans, then to national prestige, and finally to the existence of the state itself—and so regarding his country as the party attacked, will engage in (what he considers) a war of defense."

In Western eyes, the interest of the Kremlin today is to avoid the war that at least outwardly seems to be in preparation. Most people therefore believe, even now, that the danger this year is not extreme. But the Kremlin is entirely capable of the grossest miscalculations of its own interests—if, for example, the rulers of Russia had just allowed two more years of Louis Johnson, the whole Western world would have been a plum rotten-ripe for the plucking. It is also the law of national survival that policy must be formed, not on hopeful guesses about enemy intentions, but on hard estimates of enemy capabilities. We shall ignore the new Soviet preparations at our peril.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: THIS MODEST CHARM OF NOT TOO MUCH, PART SEEN, IMAGINED PART—WORDSWORTH.

We wish to thank our neighbors, friends and relatives for their sympathy and helpfulness following the sudden loss of our beloved husband and father, George Shriver. We also wish to thank Rev. UNDER THE DOME

The U. S. Public Health Service notified me that the application of the Christ Child Society Convalescent Farm at Rockville, had been approved. The total cost of the 54 bed chronic hospital to replace the old one will be $419,000 of which the federal share will be $167,904.

A number of letters have been received relative to White House souvenirs. I have sent these names to the Commission on Renovation of the Executive Mansion, and they will send the application blanks direct to the people. Any one interested in obtaining a souvenir should contact the Commission on Renovation of the Executive Mansion, Fort Myer, Va., and the necessary application will be mailed to them.

The budget as presented this week contained the amount of $2,400,000 for the continuance of construction on the Cumberland Flood Control Project.

In the Matter of the Petition of Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan. No. 22,028 Equity. In the Circuit Court For Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of the Petition in the above case is to change the name of "Unnamed Male Kline, Twin I" to that of Leonard Garland Morgan, and the name of "Unnamed Male Kline, Twin 2" to that of Kenneth Gerland Morgan.

The Petition states that the Petitioners reside in Allegany County, Maryland; that they are both adults and have been known since shortly after birth as Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan, and that they desire to have their names changed, and that the reason for changing the names is on account of their having been raised since infancy by Isaac Morgan and Margaret A. It is thereupon this 17th day of January, 1951, by the Circuit Court of Allegany County, ordered that the Petitioners cause a copy of this order with the object and substance of the Petition to be inserted in some daily newspaper published in the City of Cumberland once a week for three successive weeks before the 12th day of February, 1951, giving notice to whom it may concern to appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 19th day of February, 1951, to show cause, if any there be, why a decree shall not be passed as prayed.

News Developments Bring Declines In Stock Prices

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP) — Diplomatic maneuverings in world capitals to end the Korean war and Washington efforts to speed economic controls unsettled the stock market today and brought on moderate-sized price declines.

At the same time a few individual issues enlivened the session with wide price swings both up and down.

Traders hesitated to enter the market with any forcefulness because of the uncertainty of the outcome of present economic and political negotiations and plans.

The volume of trading contracted to 1,990,000 shares, the first time in seven weeks that it has slipped below the two million mark.

Lower all around were motors, aircrafts, utilities, copper mining, air lines, and most of the chemicals and railroads.

Losses were from a few cents to more than $1 a share, but at the same time a number of gainers had similar sized advances.

Considerable attention was focused on the widely moving issues. American Cynamid closed 5¼ higher at 84⅝. Brokers said reports of the possibility of a stock split were circulating in Wall Street.

Douglas Aircraft, on the other hand, dropped 4½ at 102 reflecting disappointment after directors declared the regular quarterly dividend and an extra of $1.25, the same as was paid last Feb. 21.

Gulf Oil responded to dividend news with a forward push. It closed up 2¼ at 90½. Yesterday directors declared a 100 per cent stock dividend.

American Telephone became the ninth most active issue down at 1½ at 152 as a result of trading generated by admission to trading in the bond market on a "when issued" basis of the A. T. & T. new 3⅜ths convertible debentures and the start of trading of the conversion rights "when issued" on the stock exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 50 cents to $91.60. The industrial component of the average was off 50 cents, rails off 40 cents, and utilities declined 20 cents.

TWO SQUEEZES ON DEAL

SQUEEZE PLAYS are supposed to be possible on about one deal out of twenty, though they certainly don't get made that often, in fact hardly half that often. Though they are not necessarily very complex, the infrequency of their occurrence makes them seem to be very special plays. It is much rarer, however, that a deal comes along which presents the chance for two entirely different types of squeeze plays, with each of them getting made at different tables of a duplicate game.

Norths who stopped at small slam on this deal were undoubtedly sound enough, since several unknown factors could have prevented a grand slam. But the taking of the thirteenth trick, for an extra at small slam, was surely in the cards for a fine operator. In fact, two entirely different squeezes were used to make the grand slam.

Where East led the spade 9 to the J, North won with the A, scored the two heart tops and then ran the clubs, which fortunately broke evenly. As the last was led, North also held the diamond 7 and the spade 10-7-2, with dummy retaining its four diamonds. West had discarded down to his four diamonds and the spade K. Tossing a diamond would have built the 10 for the final trick, so he threw off the spade. The spade 10 and three diamond tops completed the hand.

One East led the diamond 3. Refusing to finesse, North won with the A, also scored the K and Q, then ran clubs, followed by the heart K and A. As the latter was played, dummy also held the spade 8 and diamond 10, and North the spade A-10-7. West had the diamond J, to which he clung to guard against the 10 which he could see. To do that, he had to throw off his spade K, having previously discarded the Q and J. That enabled North to get the last two tricks with the spade A and 10.

City Officials To Seek More Tax Sources

Council To Hold Executive Session

The Mayor and Council will hold an executive session tonight to formulate plans on city finance legislation to be submitted to the Allegany County Delegation.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said W. Earle Cobey, city solicitor, and Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, will attend the meeting slated at 7:30 p.m. in the mayor's office.

Gibson pointed out yesterday that the city must either find additional sources of revenue or secure authority to raise the real estate tax rates here.

Efforts will be made, the mayor said, to secure sources of additional revenue for the city.

Cites Baltimore Sources

Baltimore City, he added, has the power to tax about 60 sources of revenue in order to meet operating expenses.

Last Friday, Mayor Post, Commissioner William H. Buchholtz and Gibson conferred with officials in Baltimore on sources of revenue there.

Mayor Post said it is hoped that a study will show some of those sources of taxation will be applicable to Cumberland.

He indicated the city may ask the Legislature to give Cumberland the right to tax some of the sources used in Baltimore.

Some Termed Valueless

In many cases, however, the cost of collection would make some types of taxing authority valueless.

Cumberland, Mayor Post said, might be interested in some of the following, which are important revenue in Baltimore:

Tax on tobacco, admission taxes, minor privilege permits, liquor tax, magistrates fines and dog licenses.

All efforts will be made, officials said, to avoid an increase in the tax rate on real estate.

Mayor Post indicated that the city may seek a conference with the County Delegation next week on tax matters.

Surplus Nearly Gone

Gibson emphasized that unless the city receives additional miscellaneous revenues, it must get authority to raise the tax rate.

During the 1950-51 fiscal year, the city had a surplus of $152,000 which originally came from state shared income.

Now, Gibson pointed out, expenses are assorbing the entire amount of money available in the present levy.

This means, he pointed out that the city must find new sources for about $152,000 or more just to continue operating expenses.

That amount is equivalent to about 25 cents on the tax rate. The 90 cents limitation placed on the tax rate here for operation is a handicap to the city's progress.

Increasing cost of operation of the city's facilities, prohibits the accumulation of any surplus funds.

Jury Verdicts Total $40,000 In Hagerstown

Oakland Couple Awarded Large Sums

Verdicts totaling $40,000 in favor of an Oakland couple were returned yesterday afternoon in Washington County Circuit Court, Hagerstown, as a jury wound up a three-day trial there.

After three hours of deliberations the jury returned a verdict of $35,000 for Mrs. Ruth Wright, Oakland, who lost a leg in an unusual accident in Oakland in October, 1948. The jury also returned a verdict of $5,000 for her husband, Leslie Wright, for loss of her services.

Defendants in the suit were Howard Tasker, an Oakland garage mechanic, and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. It was testified that a B&O train struck an automobile which Tasker was driving at the Oakland crossing. The automobile, in turn, was forced against Mrs. Wright, injuring her as she stood at the crossing waiting for the train to pass.

The suits, originally filed in Garrett County Circuit Court, sought $100,000 for Mrs. Wright and $20,000 for her husband. They were transferred to the Hagerstown court later.

Originally, also, a third defendant was named in the suit. He was Ralph Pritts, operator of Pritts' Garage, in Oakland. It was contended the vehicle which Tasker was driving bore dealers' tags owned by Pritts and consequently Tasker was acting as Pritts' agent. The suit was dismissed some time ago insofar as Pritts was concerned.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs were Walter Dawson and Neil Fraley, both of Oakland; John Wagaman, Hagerstown, and Clyde Bailey, Pittsburgh, Pa. Nine lawyers represented the defendants.

Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish and Associate Judge George Henderson presided at the trial which began Monday morning.

Sewage Freezes On Highway

The Health Department reported yesterday that drastic steps will be taken soon to eliminate conditions such as are seen in the above photo. J. B. Dowling, State Health Department sanitarian, said what appears to be patches of cinders upon McMullen Highway at Fairgo is sewage which seeped from defective septic tanks and froze upon the highway. Officials said there are some 150 spots in the county where similar conditions exist.

Society Hears Talk On Control Of Instruments

Plan Joint Meeting With Engineers Soon

About 20 members of the Cumberland section of the Instrument Society of America attended a group meeting Tuesday night at the Algonquin Hotel to hear John S. Leslie, president of the Leslie Company, Lyndhurst, N. J., describe the Leslie line of control valves and automatic regulators.

Officials of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Luke, and Celanese Corporation of America, belong to the local organization which has the objective to advance the arts and sciences connected with theory, design, manufacture and use of instruments in various sciences and technologies.

Leslie was graduated from Cornell University with a mechanical engineer degree and from a postgraduate course in business administration at Babson Institute. He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, National Steam Specialty Club, Naval Engineers and Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, and has been associated with the Leslie Company since 1936.

Leslie's talk covered a practical approach to the regulation and control which is of vital interest to instrument operation for power and maintenance engineers. The discussion included the use of right instruments and regulators, methods to select the best instrument or regulator and how the proper selection brings benefits and allays cost problems.

The group also made plans to hold a joint meeting with the Society of American Engineers in February.

The next meeting of the local organization will be held February 9. Leopold Van Blerkom, vice president of the New York section of the Instrument Society of America and an official with Weston Electric, will be the guest speaker at the affair.

Long Awaits Reply From Jury Foreman

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long reported last night he had not yet received a formal report from Kenneth R. Malcolm, Westernport, on a letter calling attention to a recent wave of robberies and bookmaking operations in this city.

Malcolm, who said Tuesday night he had dispatched the reply, observed that any recall of the grand jury would have to come from the court as he has no recess authority.

Commissioner Long declined to comment further on the matter.

Court Orders To Be Asked In Road Sewage Abatement

Court orders will be requested in the near future to compel property owners along a section of McMullen Highway to prevent sewage from leaking onto the highway, J. B. Dowling, State Health Department sanitarian, said yesterday.

He explained the action is being taken by the Health Department, in cooperation with the State Roads Commission, to alleviate an unsanitary condition on the road at Fairgo.

Court actions are now being made up, he said, and will be served within the next 10 days.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county and city health officer, said the condition at Fairgo is typical of about 150 such situations on state highways of the county.

Dowling said that under the court orders property owners would have to make improvements in septic tank installations. He said there is no one solution since each installation poses a separate problem.

In each case, inadequate or improperly installed septic tanks allow raw sewage to drain upon the highway, causing a serious health menace.

Fort Hill Music Groups Will Stage H.M.S. Pinafore

"We Sail the Ocean Blue" is becoming the theme of the Fort Hill A Cappella Choir and Glee Clubs as preparations get underway for the light opera, H. M. S. Pinafore, to be presented in the school auditorium, Thursday, February 15, at 8 p. m.

The setting for the well-known Gilbert and Sullivan classic is the good ship Pinafore. The plot centers around Josephine, the daughter of the Captain of the vessel, and her lover, Ralph Rackstraw, who is a seaman. Sir Joseph Porter, a dapper though elderly gentleman with an exalted opinion of himself, also attempts to win the hand of the captain's daughter. There also is the villain, Dick Deadeye, who complicates the plot.

The cast for the light opera, sponsored by the Choir and Glee Clubs consists of: Sir Joseph Porter, played by Bruce Ambrose; Captain Corcoran, Warfield Wilson; Ralph Rackstraw, Bill Burkhart; Dick Deadeye, Mike Smith; Boatswain's Mate Bill Bobstay, Eddie Smith and Carl Robertson (this role has been divided between the two boys.)

Also Bob Becket, Carpenter's Mate, Kermit Combs; Josephine, the captain's daughter, Adalee Brant; Cousin Hebe, Sir Joseph's first cousin, Shirley Brinkman; Little Buttercup, a Portsmouth bumboat woman, Betty Clapp, and a chorus of the First Lord of the Admiralty's sisters, his cousins, his aunts, sailors, marines, etc., made up of members of the A Capella Choir and Glee Clubs.

H. M. S. Pinafore will be directed by Miss Helen Smith and Miss Annetta Yates. Music will be provided by an orchestra comprised of members of the band and faculty.

Miss Yates, Miss Smith, and Miss Marilyn Ashbaugh selected the cast after a series of after-school tryouts.

This school-wide project is being backed by the music department, speech department, English department, vocational shop department, home economics department, and the physical education department.

Proceeds will be used to help pay for the organ which has been purchased by the school.

Chamber Warns Citizens On Siding And Roofing Work

The return of near spring weather to Cumberland yesterday prompted the Chamber of Commerce to issue a warning against the flood of roofing and siding contractors bound to invade the area in the next few months.

Harold W. Smith, manager of the Chamber, said that before a contract for such work is given to an unknown firm, home owners should at least secure a competitive bid from a local firm.

Many past complaints, on counts of price and workmanship, led to the warning.

Officials recalled the case of a firm from outside the area which secured a contract for such work, then sublet it to a local firm for 60 per cent of the contract price.

Generally speaking, the Chamber said, local firms charge less for roofing and siding jobs, due to the necessity of competitive bidding.

Close supervision of work and the necessity of guaranteeing their work results in adequate standards of workmanship by local firms, the Chamber said.

In some cases, officials said, outside firms have sub-let contracts to incompetent workers.

The only rule, the Chamber said, is to investigate carefully before signing contracts with unknown firms.

As a rule, such contracts are so carefully drawn that a property owner has no recourse if he changes his mind after he signs.

Dollar Day Sale Will Begin In City Tomorrow

Continues Through Saturday, Monday

It's "Dollar Days" time again—when Cumberland merchants "mark down" just about everything available and pass the values along to their customers.

Just when is it? Friday, Saturday and Monday.

For some 25 years local merchants have been cooperating to sponsor "Dollar Days" sales, Mercantile Bureau officials recalled last night.

They added that each sale has proved beter than the one preceding it and the values have been better.

Participating merchants, members of the Mercantile Bureau, have been getting ready for the past few weeks to offer thousands of dollars worth of choice merchandise at lower prices as a "thank you" for past patronage, bureau officials pointed out.

Last July, during the last "Dollar Days" sale, some patrons were disappointed when they found stocks depleted after they delayed shopping. To avoid that happening again, merchants are recommending that the buying public shop early this time.

In past years, "Dollar Days" have been held on successive days, but on this occasion merchants are trying something new by conducting the sales over a weekend and into a new week.

They believe this plan will be more satisfactory for two reasons: First, employes will not be inconvenienced and, second, most merchants concerned keep their stores open until 9 p. m. Mondays so that working people will have an opportunity to shop.

Much of the stock offered during the three-days is especially-selected and added emphasis is being placed on the event because Easter is just eight weeks away, it is claimed.

Many articles, clothing in particular, may be purchased during the sale at lower prices than will be found nearer the holiday, merchants said.

In urging that patrons take advantage of the sale, merchants pointed out that increasing wholesale prices may soon make it impossible to offer articles at such low cost for some time.

However, one said, merchants will continue to bring these bargain events to the public at as great a saving as possible.

Bargains offered will be well advertised and participating merchants will exhibit "Dollar Days" signs in their store windows.

Phone Service Back To Normal

All but 70 of the 1,200 telephone lines which were thrown out of service when an underground cable on North Centre Street was cut Tuesday night, had been repaired last night.

A company spokesman said all of the lines were slated to be back in service before morning.

Some 1,600 phones were knocked out when water seeping into the cable caused a short circuit after it had been damaged by workmen.

The lines being repaired last night were those which were severed and extensive testing was necessary before the lines, providing service for about 200 telephones, could be spliced.

Virtually normal service was restored by noon yesterday.

Rowe, Ridgeley; and Wayne E. Ruble, Wiley Ford, W. Va.; Sullivan and Milburn have been sent to Martinsburg, W. Va. The others have gone to Fort George G. Meade for basic training.

TWUA Ballot Count Will Begin Today

The Honest Ballot Association will begin tallying results in the annual election of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), which ended last night.

George Abrams, head of the ballot team, said the election has been a spirited one. He added there is a distinct possibility of a recount, due to the presence of a number of strong contenders in some posts.

Warning Issued On Milk Bottles

The Health Department yesterday issued a warning to raw milk distributors in Allegany County against using registered containers of other dairies.

J. Dowling, State Health Department sanitarian, said it is illegal to use the bottles or cans belonging to another dairy.

Heads State Roads

Russell H. McCain, of Frederick, last night was appointed chairman of the State Roads Commission by Governor McKeldin. This picture shows McCain in his office. The Frederick man, a 51-year-old native of Pittsburgh, Pa., has been a member of the State Roads Commission since 1945, when he was named by former Governor Herbert R. O'Conor. The governor also named Avery W. Hall, Salisbury, to the commission.

Governor Appoints Russell McCain State Roads Commission Chairman

Avery Hall Named As Shore Member

Governor McKeldin last night appointed Russell H. McCain of Frederick as chairman of the State Roads Commission.

The Governor also named Avery W. Hall, Salisbury business executive, to the three-member commission which supervises state highway and bridge construction and repair.

Both are Republicans. McCain succeeds Joseph M. George as chairman, and Hall's appointment removed George from the commission entirely. Both are from the Eastern Shore, which is entitled to only one position.

McKeldin had made no secret of his desire to elevate McCain and obtain the services of Hall.

He has not yet selected a Democrat. One roads post must be assigned the party opposite the Governor.

Leonard E. Kolmer is now the third member of the commission. As a Democrat and resident of Baltimore, he would be eligible to continue in office. Administration sources indicated, however, that McKeldin is searching for a replacement.

The new commission has McKeldin's advice before it is completely formed.

The Governor has called for retrenchment in the program labeled with costs up to $800,000,000 in discussions the last few years. He also has criticized the policy of constructing highways without access roads.

McCain, 51, is a native of Pittsburgh. He went to work for the Frederick Iron and Steel Co. after graduating from Washington and Jefferson College.

He was sales manager of the firm's pump division when former Governor O'Conor appointed him to the Roads Commission in 1945.

From 1938 to 1945 he was chairman of the Republican Central Committee for Frederick County. He served two terms on the Frederick City Board of Aldermen and was president until he accepted the roads post.

Mrs. McCain, the former Elizabeth Harner Apple, is a daughter of Dr. Joseph H. Apple, founder and first president of Hood College.

Hall also is 51. He was born in Whaleysville.

In 1928 he established an insurance business at Salisbury and since then has served as president of the Maryland Association of Insurance Agents.

Hall is president of Victor Lynn Lines, a transportation firm, and a director of the County Trust Company of Maryland, the Eastern Shore Public Service Companies of Maryland and Virginia and John H. Dulany and Son, Fruitland packers of frozen and canned goods.

He is secretary and treasurer of radio stations in Salisbury (WBOC) and Cambridge (WCEM). Since 1935 he has been a member of the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College. He is a director of Peninsula General Hospital at Salisbury and Past President of the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce and Wicomico Childrens' Home.

Zoning Board Denies Appeal On Gas Station

Cite Ordinance On Residential B Area

The Board of Zoning Appeals last night disapproved an appeal of L. L. Wilkinson, 109 Valley Street, for construction of a service station at the southwest corner of Paca and Lee Streets.

In denying the appeal, the board said the action was taken because the site is located in a Residential B district.

A spokesman said Wilkinson has the right to appeal the decision in Circuit Court within 30 days.

The City Engineer's office on December 2, 1950, denied an occupancy permit for the service station, but approved the building plans.

The project would include a one-story service station building 80 by 30 feet, with concrete block walls and tile roof with hard surfaced driveways.

Wilkinson, on December 21, filed the appeal on the action.

The Board said the ordinance allows no exception which would give it power to grant such a permit in a Residential B district.

School Locker Bid Approved

A contract for the purchase of lockers for the new Mt. Savage High School at a total cost of $17,141.25 was approved at a special meeting of the Allegany County Board of Education.

School Superintendent Charles L. Kopp said the successful bidder is The Marquis Company, 128 Bedford Street, which distributes lockers made by the Lyon Medal Products Company. The school will receive 945 corridor lockers and 105 gymnasium lockers.

Delivery of th lockers is uncertain although the company hopes to have them in about 120 days, the school superintendent reported. Completion of the new school by the beginning of the 1951-52 school year is the goal of school officials.

Only one other bid on the lockers was submitted to the school board, according to Kopp. This was from the Berger Manufacturing Division, Canton, Ohio. The superintendent said that this was only a partial bid and did not include all of the desired lockers.
